Kennedy Signs Education Bill 'Reluctantly'

President Contends Need Much Greater; Postal Pay Hike Loses

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has signed into law 'with extreme reluctance' a bill containing the remains of his aid to education program.

The measure: (1) extends for two years the program of aid for school districts crowded with children of federal personnel and (2) continues for two years the National Defense Education Act.

The former, known as the impacted areas program, carries about $300 million a year in U.S. grants. The Defense Education Act, which provides loans to college students and aids to teaching of science, mathematics and foreign languages, has been costing about $250 million a year.

It was all Congress granted the President of the ambitious federal aid to education program he proposed this year.

Kennedy Tuesday night vetoed a bill that would have given $60.9 million a year in pay raises to 560,000 postal workers through a quicker longevity increases.

In a veto memorandum Kennedy said, "Budgetary needs are too urgent to permit approval of this measure unattended by revenue increases."

Congress did not pass the postal rate increases recommended by both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations. The President cited this as one of the reasons.

Red Marshal Gives Warning To U.S. Army

BERLIN (AP)—Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander of Soviet forces in East Berlin, has warned the U.S. Army commander in Europe against taking any action that might upset prospects of East-West talks on Berlin.

This was announced Tuesday night by a Soviet Embassy spokesman. There were reports the tough, aging marshal was complaining about the resumption of U.S. military police patrols on the autobahn linking West Berlin with West Germany — 110 miles away.

The Soviet spokesman said Konev's letter was sent to Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, under whose orders the patrols were resumed Sept. 23 after a nine-year lapse.

The patrols were resumed after two U.S. soldiers were detained on the autobahn for six hours by East German Communist police. The action was, in effect, a warning to East Germany to keep hands off U. S. Military traffic to Berlin.

Konev took the line that any undue steps by U.S. authorities might rock the boat and ruin prospects for a peaceful settlement of the Berlin issue, the Soviet spokesman said.

Former commander of the Warsaw Pact armies, Konev was pulled from retirement for the East German assignment in August after tension rose over Berlin and the peace treaty with East Germany. Such a treaty, the Soviets warn, would place Allied lifelines to Berlin under the control of the East Germans.

U.N. Secretary Accord Hinted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Prospects appeared a little brighter today for East-West agreement on naming a U. N. secretary-general.

Informed sources voiced guarded optimism that a formula might be announced soon — perhaps when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko meets Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington later this week.

Soviet delegates were giving the impression that their only demand on the naming of a temporary successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold is that he be screened by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union holds the veto power.

But if the selection is left to the General Assembly alone, as advocated by some Western nations, the Soviet Union will refuse to recognize the new secretary-general "even if he were a Russian," one high Soviet source said. There is no veto in the General Assembly.

Latest speculation centered on a plan to name an acting secretary-general with five deputies. Two would come from the Soviet Union and the United States, the other three from Latin America, Asia and Africa.

There was no indication whether such a plan would be acceptable to the Soviets, who have proposed naming a secretary-general to work with three deputies representing East, West and neutrals.

The Soviets are telling other delegations that this formula is a far-reaching compromise and that they have dropped the idea that the deputies would exercise any veto over the actions of the temporary secretary-general.

Soviets Report Crop Failures

Virgin Land Project Proves Disappointing

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has disclosed a virtual crop failure in Kazakhstan and the virgin lands. This may have a considerable effect upon both domestic and international policies.

Pravda reports that delegates to a Communist party meeting in the central Asian republic "spoke with great uneasiness about the fact that this year Kazakhstan cannot give the state much grain."

The first secretary of the Communist party in Kazakhstan, D. A. Kunayev, said: "We must report to the Congress (the 22nd Congress of the Communist party, meeting here Oct. 17) that we do not cope with our task in the production of grain. We cope with our tasks completely unsatisfactorily."

Last year Kazakhstan and the virgin lands also had a disastrous harvest. The first secretary, Nikolai Belyaev, was fired from his local job and from his top job on the Moscow Presidium.

The development of the virgin lands is a pet project of Premier Khrushchev, who sees those vast reaches of central Asia as a means of overtaking the United States in food production.

By all accounts, the harvest in western reaches of the Soviet Union is not much better.

The crop setback may have its influence on foreign policy. On the international front, the Soviet Union almost always lowers its demands when there is a bad harvest since, unlike the United States, it has no reserves on which to fall back.

Pravda blamed both bad weather and faulty techniques for the harvest failure.

Goodie Knight Ready To Tell Nixon Story

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Goodie J. (Goodie) Knight staked his bid for a political comeback on promised proof today that Richard M. Nixon tried to lure him out of the Republican race for governor.

The 64-year-old former governor called an afternoon news conference and said he would disclose the who, what and where to back up his charge.

Knight, who has clashed with Nixon before, alleged that a Nixon emissary offered him anything in the state if he wouldn't oppose the former vice president's candidacy for governor.

Sewer Problems Aired in Council

Where to place responsibility of sewer maintenance in Circleville reached a stormy peak during a regular session of City Council last night.

On Sept. 19, Council discussed possibilities of transferring the responsibility from the City Service Department to the Board of Public Utilities. However, legislation pertaining to the transfer was not presented last night.

Irvin Leist, public utilities director, was present last night to give details of what to expect if the responsibility is delegated to the utilities board. He said such a move would mean a cost increase of about $14,000 to his department, including the hiring of three men and obtaining a new truck and other facilities.

Council earlier formed the opinion that the service department does not have adequate facilities to handle the maintenance problem.

THE touchy problem came to light several weeks ago when a southend resident informed the council that his basement had been flooded due to sewer clogging. The cause initially was placed on corn cobs coming from the Winorr Canning Co.

However, it was explained last night that tree roots growing in the sewer line was a major factor in the basement flooding. It was noted that the corn cobs constituted a lesser cause.

Leist, discussing at length the merits of a possible sewer maintenance transfer, requested a meeting between Council and the Utilities Board in hope of finding a mutual and satisfactory solution to the problem. He asked that legislation calling for the change be withheld until such a meeting is conducted.

Following a lengthy and at times heated discussion, the law makers agreed to call a meeting Monday with Leist and members of the Board of Public Utilities.

Solicitor Kenneth Robbins, meanwhile, was authorized to prepare the proper legislation for a possible transfer of responsibility to the utilities body. Action on the matter apparently will be taken at the next Council session and after the meeting with the Utilities Board.

Yankees Whip Cincinnati, 2-0

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, displaying their long ball power, defeated the Cincinnati Reds here this afternoon 2-0 in the first game of the 1961 World Series.

Elston Howard and Moose Skowron each connected with home runs to account for the Yankee scoring.

Whitey Ford pitched the route for the winners while Jim O'Toole and Jim Brosnan were used by the Reds. Ford allowed the losers only two hits.

NLRB Condemns Blouse Plant For Moving To Escape Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says a blouse factory can't move to South Carolina over a labor contract dispute and leave its employees in Philadelphia without jobs.

The National Labor Relations Board ruled Tuesday that Sidele Fashions, Inc., must provide jobs for the old employees either in Philadelphia or at the new plant in Ware Shoals, S.C.

It labeled the move South last year an unfair "device to wrest bargaining concessions" from the Garment Workers Union.

The NLRB gave Mac J. Cahn and Sidney L. Schiro, who now operate Personality Sportsweat Inc., in Ware Shoals, two choices:

1. Write all employees discharged in the move and offer them substantially the same jobs they had at a reopened Philadelphia plant. The board said Cahn had indicated interest in re-opening the plant if he could reach agreement with the union.

2. Offer them similar jobs at the Ware Shoals plant with full seniority and other rights, "dismissing, if necessary, all employees at the Ware Shoals plant," except for those who make an economy line blouse in which the South Carolina plant specializes.

Workers who decide to move to Ware Shoals, the NLRB said, will be paid travel and moving expenses for themselves and their families. Only nine of Sidele's 200 workers have gone to Ware Shoals so far, the board said.

Also, the board said employees should be reimbursed for loss of pay "they may have suffered as a result of the discrimination against them" since the Philadelphia plant was closed in January 1960.

At Ware Shoals, Schiro said the firm would appeal the decision.

Syrians Lash Nasser Agents

General Says Egyptians Moved 'Like Octopus'

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's agents moved "like an octopus" to weaken the Syrian army, suffocate freedom of citizens and to fill prisons," says the new Syrian army commander.

Gen. Abdel Karim Zahredin told reporters Tuesday that was the reason the Syrian army rose against Nasser's United Arab Republic last week and forcibly severed Syria's 2½-year-old ties with Egypt.

Zahredin also accused Cairo agents of stealing millions of dollars worth of Syrian arms and equipment for shipment to Egypt. He said Nasser's intelligence officers filled Syria's prisons with political prisoners and stifled individual liberties.

"The army's only aim was to redress wrongs and it was pledged not to interfere with the political life of Syria," he said.

Informed sources said that one way Nasser weakened the Syrian army was to send several dozen Syrian officers to Communist countries as students. They said Syria now has demanded their prompt return.

Interior Minister Adnan Kuwaty told newsmen the new Syrian regime had found a large number of political prisoners but had been unable to come up with an accurate count. Premier Mamoun Kuzbari estimated the number at about 30,000.

Kuwaty said the dreaded internal security system at one time had about 6,500 secret agents with a monthly payroll of about one million Syrian pounds — $2,800,000.

Syria will continue its ban on the Communist party, Kuwaty said, adding that "we will leave the question of political parties to Parliament."

Sitting Job Fails To Save Energy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The theory that sitting down on the job saves energy doesn't have a leg to stand on, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The department's home economists said their tests show women burn more energy if they sit down to wash dishes, roll dough and to lift kitchen utensils from counter to shelves.

Housewives who perch on a stool over the ironing board or kitchen sink, for example, use up 4 per cent more energy than if they did their work standing.

Rolling dough while sitting requires 9 per cent more energy—not counting the energy expended in getting off the stool.

Rayburn Condition Listed 'Serious'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn remained on the "serious" list today at Baylor Hospital. His doctors hope to know Thursday just how serious his condition is.

A team headed by Dr. Robert F. Short, prominent Dallas surgeon, started a series of tests on Rayburn Tuesday. They said it would be 36 to 48 hours before they knew anything definite.

They declined to comment on a report from one of Rayburn's aides that an exploratory operation may be performed.

"This man is in serious condition, just how serious we do not know at this time," one of the doctors said privately.

Berlin Crisis To Be Aired at Parley Friday

Conference Follows Series Held by Rusk With Soviet Minister

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will confer Friday on the Berlin situation.

The conference was arranged as a followup to those in New York between Gromyko and Secretary of State Dean Rusk seeking to determine whether there are prospects for fruitful East-West negotiations to settle the Berlin dispute.

Kennedy will give Gromyko a final expression of the U. S. view before the Soviet foreign minister leaves for Moscow.

Further U. S.-Soviet talks seem likely. So far Gromyko has given Rusk only a limited clarification of the Kremlin's intentions on Germany.

Rusk would still like to know more precisely what Soviet Premier Khrushchev means, for instance, when he talks about guarantees for Western rights to West Berlin after he signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Diplomats said firm arrangements obviously would have to await the outcome of the White House meeting. But barring a more rapid advance than has taken place so far, more exploratory talks will be needed before the prospects of an East-West negotiating conference can be gauged.

Kennedy received a report from Gen. Lauris Norstad, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Commander. NATO is building its armed strength in the face of the Berlin threat and a generally tougher Communist stance worldwide.

Joining the White House conference, which lasted about two hours, were Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Norstad's visit was described as one of his frequent trips to Washington for consultation.

Fine Woods Disappearing On Furniture

NEW YORK (AP)—Getting to like plastic chairs that look tubular, tortured or like diseased mushrooms?

Then stick around. The next decade or two are for you.

John Van Koert, one of the country's eminent designers, predicts new shapes, forms and functions in furniture in the next 10 to 15 years, dictated by kinds of material available.

Fine woods are disappearing, he points out, and in a few years furniture will be made of plastics or metal, with wood used only for decorative purposes.

"The whole domestic architecture will be different," says Van Koert. "Rooms will not be bedrooms, dining rooms and so forth, as we know them. People will live all over a house, which will be subdivided according to needs. There will be no dead areas. Everything will be more convertible. More folding furniture will be used, and sliding screens. Beds will fold away. Most things can be put away right after you've finished using them."

Van Koert expects the new furniture to be less expensive. "We're going to have an economic breakthrough in furniture when the industry gets really industrialized. As in terms of the metals industry, for example the furniture industry isn't industrialized. It still has hand work. I like hand work, but it's expensive and in this case it's not expression of individual artistry but merely that there's no machine to do the work."

GOP Sweep Ousts Mayor of Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Michael Damas lost his bid for renomination to City Council and Republicans made a strong showing in Tuesday's municipal primary election.

Damas, a Democrat, was seeking his fifth term in Council. Under Toledo's form of government the mayor is elected by Council.

Republican candidates swept the top nine positions and won 10 of 18 qualifying spots. Howard Cook, an incumbent councilman, led with 22,311 votes in the complex unofficial returns.

Damas ran 19th on the list of 30 candidates. He was 178 votes short of the last candidate to qualify.

Pravda reports that delegates to a Communist party meeting in the central Asian republic "spoke with great uneasiness about the fact that this year Kazakhstan cannot give the state much grain."

The first secretary of the Communist party in Kazakhstan, D. A. Kunayev, said: "We must report to the Congress (the 22nd Congress of the Communist party, meeting here Oct. 17) that we do not cope with our task in the production of grain. We cope with our tasks completely unsatisfactorily."

Last year Kazakhstan and the virgin lands also had a disastrous harvest. The first secretary, Nikolai Belyaev, was fired from his local job and from his top job on the Moscow Presidium.

The development of the virgin lands is a pet project of Premier Khrushchev, who sees those vast reaches of central Asia as a means of overtaking the United States in food production.

By all accounts, the harvest in western reaches of the Soviet Union is not much better.

The crop setback may have its influence on foreign policy. On the international front, the Soviet Union almost always lowers its demands when there is a bad harvest since, unlike the United States, it has no reserves on which to fall back.

Pravda blamed both bad weather and faulty techniques for the harvest failure.

Goodie Knight Ready To Tell Nixon Story

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Goodwin J. (Goodie) Knight staked his bid for a political comeback on promised proof today that Richard M. Nixon tried to lure him out of the Republican race for governor.

The 64-year-old former governor called an afternoon news conference and said he would disclose the who, what and where to back up his charge.

Knight, who has clashed with Nixon before, alleged that a Nixon emissary offered him anything in the state if he wouldn't oppose the former vice president's candidacy for governor.

Nixon denied it. He said he is willing to swear on the Bible that he had nothing to do with any attempt to keep Knight from running for the job he held from 1953 through 1958.

Knight announced his candidacy for re-election in 1959, then withdrew after Nixon and other state party leaders threw their pre-primary support to then Sen. William F. Knowland, who lost to Democrat Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. In 1956, Knight for a time fought Nixon's renomination for vice president.

Hurricane Frances Whirls East of Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tropical Storm Frances became a hurricane today. The Miami Weather Bureau reported it had 75 mile per hour winds. It was 560 miles east of Miami, moving north-northwest.

Frances offers no threat to the U.S. mainland, the bureau said. The hurricane was moving at 13 m.p.h.

impression that their only demand on the naming of a temporary successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold is that he be screened by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union holds the veto power.

But if the selection is left to the General Assembly alone, as advocated by some Western nations, the Soviet Union will refuse to recognize the new secretary-general "even if he were a Russian," one high Soviet source said. There is no veto in the General Assembly.

Latest speculation centered on a plan to name an acting secretary-general with five deputies. Two would come from the Soviet Union and the United States, the other three from Latin America, Asia and Africa.

There was no indication whether such a plan would be acceptable to the Soviets, who have proposed naming a secretary-general to work with three deputies representing East, West and neutrals.

The Soviets are telling other delegations that this formula is a far-reaching compromise and that they have dropped the idea that the deputies would exercise any veto over the actions of the temporary secretary-general.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's agents moved "like an octopus" to weaken the Syrian army, suffocate freedom of citizens and to fill prisons," says the new Syrian army commander.

Gen. Abdel Karim Zahredin told reporters Tuesday that was the reason the Syrian army rose against Nasser's United Arab Republic last week and forcibly severed Syria's 2½-year-old ties with Egypt.

Zahredin also accused Cairo agents of stealing millions of dollars worth of Syrian arms and equipment for shipment to Egypt. He said Nasser's intelligence officers filled Syria's prisons with political prisoners and stifled individual liberties.

"The army's only aim was to redress wrongs and it was pledged not to interfere with the political life of Syria," he said.

Informed sources said that one way Nasser weakened the Syrian army was to send several dozen Syrian officers to Communist countries as students. They said Syria now has demanded their prompt return.

Interior Minister Adnan Kuwari told newsmen the new Syrian regime had found a large number of political prisoners but had been unable to come up with an accurate count. Premier Mamoun Kuzbari estimated the number at about 30,000.

Kuwari said the dreaded internal security system at one time had about 6,500 secret agents with a monthly payroll of about one million Syrian pounds — $2,800,000.

Syria will continue its ban on the Communist party, Kuwari said, adding that "we will leave the question of political parties to Parliament."

Yankees Whip Cincinnati, 2-0

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, displaying their long ball power, defeated the Cincinnati Reds here this afternoon 2-0 in the first game of the 1961 World Series.

Elston Howard and Moose Skowron each connected with home runs to account for the Yankee scoring.

Whitey Ford pitched the route for the winners while Jim O'Toole and Jim Brosnan were used by the Reds. Ford allowed the losers only two hits.

NLRB Condemns Blouse Plant For Moving To Escape Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says a blouse factory can't move to South Carolina over a labor contract dispute and leave its employees in Philadelphia without jobs.

The National Labor Relations Board ruled Tuesday that Sidele Fashions, Inc., must provide jobs for the old employees either in Philadelphia or at the new plant in Ware Shoals S.C.

It labeled the move South last year an unfair "device to wrest bargaining concessions" from the Garment Workers Union.

The NLRB gave Mac J. Cahn and Sidney L. Schiro, who now operate Personality Sportswear Inc., in Ware Shoals, two choices:

1. Write all employees discharged in the move and offer them substantially the same jobs they had at a reopened Philadelphia plant. The board said Cahn had indicated interest in reopening the plant if he could reach agreement with the union.

2. Offer them similar jobs at the Ware Shoals plant with full seniority and other rights, "dismissing, if necessary, all employees at the Ware Shoals plant, except for those who make an economy line blouse in which the South Carolina plant specializes."

Workers who decide to move to Ware Shoals, the NLRB said, will be paid travel and moving expenses for themselves and their families. Only nine of Sidele's 200 workers have gone to Ware Shoals so far, the board said.

Also, the board said employees should be reimbursed for loss of pay "they may have suffered as a result of the discrimination against them" since the Philadelphia plant was closed in January 1960.

At Ware Shoals, Schiro said the firm would appeal the decision.

er such a plan would be acceptable to the Soviets, who have proposed naming a secretary-general to work with three deputies representing East, West and neutrals.

The Soviets are telling other delegations that this formula is a far-reaching compromise and that they have dropped the idea that the deputies would exercise any veto over the actions of the temporary secretary-general.

Sitting Job Fails To Save Energy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The theory that sitting down on the job saves energy doesn't have a leg to stand on, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The department's home economists said their tests show women burn more energy if they sit down to wash dishes, roll dough and to lift kitchen utensils from counter to shelves.

Housewives who perch on a stool over the ironing board or kitchen sink, for example, use up 4 per cent more energy than if they did their work standing.

Rolling dough while sitting requires 9 per cent more energy—not counting the energy expended in getting off the stool.

Rayburn Condition Listed 'Serious'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn remained on the "serious" list today at Baylor Hospital. His doctors hope to know Thursday just how serious his condition is.

A team headed by Dr. Robert F. Short, prominent Dallas surgeon, started a series of tests on Rayburn Tuesday. They said it would be 36 to 48 hours before they knew anything definite.

They declined to comment on a report from one of Rayburn's aides that an exploratory operation may be performed.

"This man is in serious condition, just how serious we do not know at this time," one of the doctors said privately.

Berlin Crisis To Be Aired at Parley Friday

Conference Follows Series Held by Rusk With Soviet Minister

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will confer Friday on the Berlin situation.

The conference was arranged as a followup to those in New York between Gromyko and Secretary of State Dean Rusk seeking to determine whether there are prospects for fruitful East-West negotiations to settle the Berlin dispute.

Kennedy will give Gromyko a final expression of the U. S. view before the Soviet foreign minister leaves for Moscow.

Further U. S.-Soviet talks seem likely. So far Gromyko has given Rusk only a limited clarification of the Kremlin's intentions on Germany.

Rusk would still like to know more precisely what Soviet Premier Khrushchev means, for instance, when he talks about guarantees for Western rights to West Berlin after he signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Diplomats said firm arrangements obviously would have to await the outcome of the White House meeting. But barring a more rapid advance than has taken place so far, more exploratory talks will be needed before the prospects of an East-West negotiating conference can be gauged.

Kennedy received a report from Gen. Lauris Norstad, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Commander. NATO is building its armed strength in the face of the Berlin threat and a generally tougher Communist stance worldwide.

Joining the White House conference, which lasted about two hours, were Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Norstad's visit was described as one of his frequent trips to Washington for consultation.

Fine Woods Disappearing On Furniture

NEW YORK (AP)—Getting to like plastic chairs that look tubular tortured or like diseased mushrooms?

Then stick around. The next decade or two are for you.

John Van Koert, one of the country's eminent designers, predicts new shapes, forms and functions in furniture in the next 10 to 15 years, dictated by kinds of material available.

Fine woods are disappearing, he points out, and in a few years furniture will be made of plastics or metal, with wood used only for decorative purposes.

"The whole domestic architecture will be different," says Van Koert. "Rooms will not be bedrooms, dining rooms and so forth, as we know them. People will live all over a house, which will be subdivided according to needs. There will be no dead areas. Everything will be more convertible. More folding furniture will be used, and sliding screens. Beds will fold away. Most things can be put away right after you've finished using them."

Van Koert expects the new furniture to be less expensive.

"We're going to have an economic breakthrough in furniture when the industry gets really industrialized. As in terms of the metals industry, for example the furniture industry isn't industrialized. It still has hand work. I like hand work, but it's expensive and in this case it's not expression of individual artistry but merely that there's no machine to do the work."

Subdivision Preliminary Plans Studied

Jack White, of White Brothers Construction Co., was given unofficial approval for his preliminary plans for a new subdivision in the Nicholas Drive - Fairview Ave. area last night by City Council.

White brought preliminary plans of his plan for inspection by the council. His intention was to gain Council approval on the subdivision's progress to date before proceeding with detailed engineering.

White's plans already have been viewed by the City Planning and Zoning Commission's spokesmen for P & Z were inclined to say the plan is sufficient in its current preliminary stage.

Council raised questions concerning some lots which appear to be smaller than what is called for by the city's building code. However, it was pointed out that a section of the code states that certain rules may be amended if the changes are in proper keeping with the regulations.

White explained and showed the preliminary plans to each Councilman. Their verbal response indicated the local contractor may safely continue his subdivision project.

Subdivision Preliminary Plans Studied

Jack White, of White Brothers Construction Co., was given an official approval for his preliminary plans for a new subdivision in the Nicholas Drive - Fairview Ave. area last night by City Council.

White brought preliminary plans of his plat for inspection by the solons. His intention was to gain Council approval on the subdivision's progress to date before proceeding with detailed engineering.

White's plans already have been viewed by the City Planning and Zoning Commission. Spokesmen for P & Z were inclined to say the plat is sufficient in its current preliminary stage.

Council raised questions concerning some lots which appear to be smaller than what is called for by the city's building code. However, it was pointed out that a section of the code states that certain rules may be amended if the changes are in proper keeping with the regulations.

White explained and showed the preliminary plans to each Councilman. Their verbal response indicated the local contractor may safely continue his subdivision project.

Supreme Court Shuns Trumbull Poll Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court refused today to review a dispute over election of a Trumbull County commissioner last November.

The action let stand a common pleas court decision holding that Josepa J. Baldine, a Democrat, won the office by an 11-vote margin over Dr. W. A. James, a Republican, who originally was declared elected.

The trial court found irregularities in the marking of disabled voters ballots for patients by employees of the county home and tuberculosis hospital. The decision wiped out James' 29-vote advantage and voided his election certificate.

The high court rejected the appeal 4-2.

The supreme court refused to review a local option election case which also was argued last week as judges returned from summer recess.

Tavern operators in Manchester on the Ohio River, appealed from a common pleas court decision upholding an election that banned sale of intoxicants in Adams County's only wet area.

A citizens committee placed the local option issue on ballots last November. Manchester's 10 bars have continued to operate pending final disposition of the case but a state liquor store closed.

The high court let stand appellate reversal of a Franklin County trial court decision upholding a state regulation against serving food and drinks in connection with funeral services.

Joseph Golubski of Cleveland and 17 other morticians challenged the 1959 ban by the Ohio Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors.

Common pleas court termed the regulation reasonable and lawful but the appellate court reversed and returned the case for further proceedings.

The Ohio Funeral Directors Association of Ohio, claiming more than 3,500 members, supported the regulation.

The Light Side

Several ordinarily dignified Courthouse personnel suddenly turned into a quick-moving "buck brigade" yesterday afternoon. The quick action began when a clerk pulled up from the basement and called Ralph Starkey, juvenile court probation officer, and hefty ex-footballer, to "come down here quickly, Mrs. Yates is drowning."

Mrs. Mary Mae Yates, executive secretary of the Child Welfare Board, was not much in danger of a watery grave but most of the board's records and files were.

A steam pipe, apparently overloaded when the Courthouse furnaces were turned on this week, had collapsed and hot water was gushing down into the office over filing cabinets.

Starkey enlisted the assistance of Bill Goeller from the County Highway Department and others and quickly moved most of the records before they sustained permanent damage. The errant pipe has been repaired.

Man Pleads Innocent To Forgery Charge

A Circleville man pleaded innocent to charges of forgery yesterday in Circleville Municipal Court. Gilbert Jones, 234 Pearl St., was bound to the January session of the Pickaway County Grand Jury. Bond was set at $500 by Judge Sterling Lamb.

Charges were filed by Ralph Boyer. The affidavit charged Jones with forging his mother's signature on a $32 bank draft.

Road Signs Damaged by 'Halloweeners'

Vandalism and destruction of property got off to a "good start" yesterday evening with the approaching Halloween season.

Several road signs in the Williamsport area were torn down and thrown on the highway and others damaged by "Halloweeners", Sheriff Walton W. Spangler reported today.

Deputy Pontious, investigating the incidents, listed the following highway signs in the damage report: a speed limit sign; a "no soliciting sign"; Cox Road sign; and Timmons Road sign.

Sheriff Spangler said today that cruisers would be patrolling the county area heavily within the next few weeks and persons apprehended for vandalism and the destruction of property would be prosecuted.

The Sheriff said that every effort would be made to prevent further incidents of this nature from occurring.

Friends may call at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home beginning 6 p. m. today.

Second Batch Of Tourists Is Stranded

LONDON (AP) — A charter plane party of 88 stranded Californians was told today it faced an indefinite wait for the flight home. The group is the second left without transportation by the same charter airline within a week.

The Californians, members of the British-American Club of Los Angeles, were scheduled to take off from Gatwick Airport Tuesday afternoon. Their plane, operated by President Airlines of Los Angeles, failed to appear.

"I'm afraid you'll have to come back again later," booking agent C. F. Beard told the group this morning. "I understand that the only airliner available is having a maintenance check in New York. They hope to get off for London some time tonight."

The travelers had spent the night at hotels and with British friends and relatives.

A second touring party—98 Irish-Americans from Chicago—finally took off for home on a President Airlines charter plane early today after a seven-day wait at Shannon Airport in Ireland.

In Los Angeles, Glen H. Taylor, owner of President Airlines, said the firm's troubles began when one of its planes crashed at Shannon last Sept. 10. The crash in effect wiped out one-third of the company's three-plane fleet.

Orient Area Home Is Burglarized

An area home was burglarized yesterday afternoon, according to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Mrs. H. W. Wardell, Route 1, Orient, reported the burglary about 3 p. m. yesterday. She told Sheriff Walton W. Spangler that a bank containing about $10 was taken while she was away between 12:30 and 2:30 p. m. yesterday.

Sheriff Spangler said the entry was gained by breaking a window in the garage that adjoins the house.

Mrs. Wardell said nothing other than the bank seemed to be missing.

Berger Treats Two For Minor Injuries

Berger Hospital treated two persons for minor injuries yesterday. James T. Yost, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Yost, 930 Circle Drive, was kicked in the face yesterday while playing football. He was treated for a laceration of the nose.

Lettie Vance, 74, Route 2, Williamsport, received treatment for a puncture wound of the left foot after stepping on a nail at home.

3rd Discussion Set

A third discussion of a series of four has been announced by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) for 7:30 p. m. Monday in Columbus.

These lectures on Mormonism are being conducted at the LDS Chapel on Olentangy Road.

Rails Pace Stock Mart Price Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails paced a stock market rally in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.80 at 254.30 with industrials up 2.00, rails up 2.00 and utilities up .60.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks far outnumbered losers.

The carriers topped their August peak in the Dow Jones rail average.

Motors cleared up early spottiness based on the nationwide strike against Ford and these issues moved ahead unanimously.

Tobacco, chemicals, electrical equipments, utilities and retailers also advanced, the latter helped by Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges' prediction of a substantial pickup in retail sales.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon rose 5.38 to 704.04. The rail component at noon advanced 2.71 to 147.16, topping the Aug. 22 rally peak of 144.92.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds were higher. U.S. governments continued to decline.

Kennedy Signs

he vetoed the measure. He said the proposed raises would have increased the postal deficit to more than $800 million.

Despite the extra costs said Kennedy, the bill would not have achieved its objectives.

He said civil service and postal pay structures need extensive revision and promised that the administration will make recommendations to the next session of Congress.

In signing the education measure, Kennedy said in a statement:

"It ill becomes those who insist that we cannot afford the expenditure of federal funds to aid the public education of all children to insist with equal fervor upon the passage of this unsound and uneconomical measure which aids the education of only some."

Kennedy announced that he will try again next year to push through his broader education program.

Typhoon Tilda Rips Into China Mainland

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Tilda battered the mainland of China today and headed inland with destructive winds of 2 miles an hour the U.S. Air Force reported. Tilda hit 138 miles south of the big industrial port of Shanghai. The storm threatens to add still another headache to the economic planners of the Communist regime already suffering from a succession of floods, typhoons and drought.

3,545 MPH, 1,000 DEGREES HOT—Project physiologist Roger Bernicki is the first to reach the X-15 rocket plane at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., after its flight at 3,545 miles per hour. Inside is Navy Cmdr. Forrest S. Petersen, also shown at right just after he emerged. The 73 seconds of full power is believed to have heated the outside metal sheathing to 1,000 degrees. For a while, smoke swirled through the cockpit, and paint singed under the instrument panel. Petersen said he felt no heat in that pressure suit.

Big Nuclear Shot Fired by Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union fired a big nuclear explosion today, described by the Atomic Energy Commission as "on the order of several megatons."

A megaton is the equivalent of one million tons of TNT.

This was the 17th atomic explosion by the Soviets since they resumed testing Sept. 1.

The explosions have ranged in several sizes.

One on Sept. 14 was also described by the AEC as of several megatons.

In response to a question, an AEC official said today's shot was not necessarily the largest yet fired by the Russians.

The shot took place in the arctic region in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya. It was fired in the atmosphere.

Second Paddling Ruled Not 'Double Jeopardy'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—"If the principal at school whips me and then my mother whips me for the same thing when I get home, can she be arrested for double jeopardy?" a young boy asked startled complaint clerk Fred Stromatt of the Nashville police.

Stromatt assured the youngster Tuesday that his mother can spank him anytime he does anything wrong.

Soviet Scientists Report Astronaut Seasick in Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet astronaut Gherman Titov was somewhat seasick during most of his 25 hours in orbit around the earth, Soviet scientists reported today.

They said preliminary indications were that the nausea was the result of extended weightlessness.

In a paper for presentation to the International Astronautic Federation.

Takes Kitchen Sink with Him

When most people move from one residence to another they usually "take everything but the kitchen sink."

Such is not the case of the Albright family, near Commercial Point, according to a report received yesterday by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Deputy Neal Childress said he received a phone call from James K. Nichols, Commercial Point, saying that an Albright family moved from his house and took the kitchen sink with them.

Albright said that the sink was not fastened to the house and that he had purchased it himself.

No further investigation was made, but Deputy Childress remarked: "Now we've covered just about everything since Sheriff Spangler took office in January."

Big Soviet Space Effort Is Hinted

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet rocket expert hinted today the U.S.S.R. is about to bring off a spectacular new space launching.

Dr. Vladimir Dobronravov said on Moscow radio current tests of "new and more powerful multi-stage rockets for the launching of objects into space are going off very successfully."

"Thus it may be supposed that in the near future the whole world will witness new and most interesting achievements by the Soviet people in the conquest of interplanetary space."

Western observers have guessed that the U.S.S.R. might stage a space spectacular about the time of the Soviet Communist party congress opening in Moscow on Oct. 17.

Feathers May Fly

Delaware's Senator Williams believes he may have discovered why one of every seven Americans is considering equipping his home with a fallout shelter. The Defense Department has in its top-most secret arsenal a very special war material, about which it will admit nothing.

Senator Williams came upon this quite by accident in the daily rush of routine government business. Somewhat enchanted by the fact that such a substance should be classified as a strategic defense item, the senator inquired of Pentagon officials how come, how much, and so forth.

None of your business, came the reply. The item in question is strictly a military secret, and consequently not reveal-

Yesterday's Heroes

A 42-year-old Argentinean, Antonio Albertondo, has made history by being the first person to make the round trip across the English Channel. But for people now puffing past the 50-year mark, nobody has swum or ever will swim the channel like Gertrude Ederle swam it in August of 1926. Scores of men had crossed one-way before Miss Ederle was thoroughly greased for the trip, and many persons have since — but she was the first of her sex.

The New York butcher's daughter was 18 when she was given the ticker-tape ovation in her home town arranged by Grover Whalen, another name from the past, who was New York police commissioner and official arranger of receptions for heroes. As it turned out, Miss Ederle's acclaim was a prelude to the vaster one given next year to 25-year-old Charles Augustus Lindbergh who flew "The Spirit of St. Louis" (remember?) non-stop and alone from New York to Paris.

Husband-Fooling Is Duty

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone knows it is all but impossible today for a husband to fool his wife. But how about wives fooling husbands?

On the evidence, it's getting easier for them all the time.

"No woman can pull the wool over my eyes," brags many a husband. Such men are pitiful examples of self-delusion.

Usually a woman has pulled the wool over their eyes so long ago they have forgotten what a clear view is like.

Civilization ties husbands in knots; it merely gives wives more loose threads to knit to their own purpose.

A man is kept so busy trying to fool his boss he doesn't have the time to fool his wife, and attempts it only in what he regards as

Old, but Simple Swindle

Senator Thomas J. Dodd, of Connecticut, calls renewed attention to an old swindle.

The swindle is a very simple one. No Communist country recognizes the right of private ownership of property. Therefore parcels or money sent to that country are the property of the government just as everything else is. Certain modifications of property ownership have developed in recent years, but they are subject to government negotiation without trial.

The General Parcel and Travel Company at 135 West 14 Street, New York City handled transactions such as the transfer of American gifts to Russians. The predecessor of this agency was Jacob Colos who was a spy, using a travel agency as a cover. Senator Dodd said of this agency: "While the director of General Parcel, Mr. Leonid Tankel, is an American citizen, and while the company is incorporated under American law, there is little doubt that it was created by Intourist especially for the purpose of serving as its representative in the area of parcel remittances to the Soviet Union. General Parcel and Travel Company has twelve branch offices in various parts of the country. The directors of these branches are American citizens, for the most part refugees themselves, who enjoy friendly relations with the refugee and immigrant community because they are considered non-Communists."

According to Senator Dodd, although the heavy duties have been prepaid in this country, almost 6,000 parcels have been returned able to anyone. Not even the men who appropriate the funds to buy it. The Pentagon in fact indicated it would like to know what loose link in the defense mechanism made it possible for the senator to find out about it in the first place.

Oh, yes — the war materiel in question is feathers and down. That's right, just like that on a duck's back. Which prompted Senator Williams to relate the incident to his legislative colleagues and complain:

"They seem to think Mr. Khrushchev will win the cold war if I am told how many feathers we have in the stockpile. What are we going to do — have a pillow fight over Berlin?"

Careful, now, senator! Let's not give away any military secrets.

Like the swimmer's less significant feat, Col. Lindbergh's great one captured previous accomplishments.

John William Alcock and Arthur Whitten Brown had flown the Atlantic, from Newfoundland to Ireland, in 1919, but in the mid-twenties a Charleston-dancing world at peace was also hungry for heroism. It honored those who deserved it simply and whole-heartedly.

Lindbergh is now in his 60th year. Miss Ederle is 53. The Atlantic is crossed by air many times daily, and after Albertondo's two-way channel crossing, surely now is the time for the British and the French to take the edge off the challenge of the channel by closing the gap with that often-discussed bridge or tunnel.

The classic ways by which women fool their husbands are to act dumb and to say one thing to them when they mean something else.

Example of the first way:
Husband, going over check stubs: "Here's one you wrote for $150. It looks like it says, 'frammis oglecrack.' What in the world was that for?"

Wife, innocently: "Oh dear, you know I can't read my own handwriting, but I know it was for something terribly important."

Actually what she did write down was "frammis oglecrack." To her it stands for $150 for 10 charm school lessons to lose weight and improve her personality. But she knows that if she told her husband she spent the money for this vital purpose, he'd go through the ceiling—thus creating an unnecessary repair bill.

Example of the second way:
"Wife: 'Dear, you're looking a bit shabby, and you really can't afford to in your business. Promise me you'll buy yourself a new suit today.'"

Husband, flattered by her interest in his appearance: "Guess you're right at that, I will."

Here what the wife really meant wasn't, "You look shabby," but "I feel shabby." As soon as he buys one new suit, she'll buy two new dresses.

Sensor Dodd has hit on a very interesting subject which ought to give the Congressional committee of which he is a member an opportunity for interesting study. Congressional committees can be kept very busy uncovering Russian tricks.

It is the proper function of the United States Post Office and the Treasury to investigate the activities not only of the General Parcel and Travel Company but Intourist to make sure that Americans who repay for services get what they pay for. As all Russian companies are owned by the Russian government, when a problem arises concerning them, the inquiry becomes a diplomatic incident because what has to be investigated is the Russian government.

This then is a serious matter. For instance, what happens if an American leaves a bequest to a relative in Russia? Who gets the money? Usually, the Russian government gets the money or the property, but as it does not wish

Mrs. M.D.

Dear Mrs. D.: Experts feel that many people unconsciously hypnotize themselves to sleep. The eyes can open in a deep hypnotic trance and in deep sleep.

You might gently close his lids to keep in moisture.

Dear Doctor: I've had one operation for urinary bladder stones. Can extra doses of calcium harm me now?

Mrs. F. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Even though your stones may not have been made of calcium, forget about the extra doses until your doctor approves. If your stones were made of calcium, daily aspirin, which counteracts them, is supposed to ease many bladder-stone headaches.

Dear Doctor: Do the physical and psychological symptoms of total hysterectomy (removal of all female organs) resemble the normal change of life and how can this affect a 31-year-old woman?

Mrs. A. L.

Dear Mrs. L.: The hot flushes, tension and anxiety are the same. The surgeon's knife merely shortens and sharpens each symptom. Many doctors prescribe female hormones to slow down or hold off years.

The effect on a 31-year-old? No more babies — but no risk of cancer of the womb or ovary, either!

Dear Doctor: Waat causes a cardiac aneurism? Is there any cure?

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—A drop in long-term unemployment could be the most significant news so far in the business recovery period.

That is because it could herald the rise in consumer spending that both business and government have been awaiting as the signal of really good times ahead.

Government spending is up. Business spending for inventories and plans for more spending for expansion are up. Together they have given the industrial sector of the economy a quick climb out of the recession low point of last March. But consumer spending has lagged.

That lag is shown in retail sales reports, which are little better than even last year when the recession was the big news.

One reason given for the continuing cautious consumer buying and increased saving is the historical one. Usually consumer confidence takes several months to revive after the recession low has been turned.

But another reason is the total of unemployment. For months it has stuck stubbornly close to 7 per cent. Although unemployment benefits, relief payments, and individual savings help cushion the blow, there is still a drag on consumer spending.

And even those with jobs tend to fret about their future when they see their neighbors laid off or going onto short week schedules—or worse still, unable to find new jobs after weeks and even months of idleness.

Much of the joblessness during the recession was in the industrial sector of the economy. And in the early months of the recovery factories tended to increase the length of the work week rather than take on new hands.

But the average work week now has recovered most of its loss. Increasing factory output should mean more jobs, over and above the gains in mechanization that have seen more goods turned out from the same man hours of labor.

New orders increased on manufacturers' books in August, the Department of Commerce reports. Private reports indicate the trend continued in October. Increases in production and in hiring are reported from various sectors.

Steel output is now at its highest point in 1961. New orders point to good levels in October and steelmen are now predicting a further gain in November.

Construction spending went to a new high in September.

All of this, and other good economic signs, should add up to further cuts in the unemployment total. Federal officials are now predicting that stubborn 7 per cent may be licked soon, and that the total may be around 6 per cent before the year is over.

U.S. To Maintain Strength in Britain

LONDON (AP) — The United States has shelved plans for cutting air strength in Britain during the present world crisis, Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert announced today.

He said the decision to maintain full strength was designed to "increase in substance our practical capability over what we had previously planned." He said the program would permit greater support of the Army.

Four reconnaissance and three tactical bomber squadrons, a total of 100 planes now stationed at the bases, would have been deactivated under the cut announced June 21. That would have meant a decrease in American expenditure in Britain of $40 to 50 million.

Feathers May Fly

Delaware's Senator Williams believes he may have discovered why one of every seven Americans is considering equipping his home with a fallout shelter. The Defense Department has in its top-most secret arsenal a very special war material, about which it will admit nothing.

Senator Williams came upon this quite by accident in the daily rush of routine government business. Somewhat enchanted by the fact that such a substance should be classified as a strategic defense item, the senator inquired of Pentagon officials how come, how much, and so forth.

None of your business, came the reply. The item in question is strictly a military secret, and consequently not reveal-able to anyone. Not even the men who appropriate the funds to buy it. The Pentagon in fact indicated it would like to know what loose link in the defense mechanism made it possible for the senator to find out about it in the first place.

Oh, yes — the war materiel in question is feathers and down. That's right, just like that on a duck's back. Which prompted Senator Williams to relate the incident to his legislative colleagues and complain:

"They seem to think Mr. Khrushchev will win the cold war if I am told how many feathers we have in the stockpile. What are we going to do — have a pillow fight over Berlin?"

Careful, now, senator! Let's not give away any military secrets.

Yesterday's Heroes

A 42-year-old Argentinean, Antonio Albertondo, has made history by being the first person to make the round trip across the English Channel. But for people now puffing past the 50-year mark, nobody has swum or ever will swim the channel like Gertrude Ederle swam it in August of 1926. Scores of men had crossed one-way before Miss Ederle was thoroughly greased for the trip, and many persons have since — but she was the first of her sex.

The New York butcher's daughter was 18 when she was given the ticker - tape ovation in her home town arranged by Grover Whalen, another name from the past, who was New York police commissioner and official arranger of receptions for heroes. As it turned out, Miss Ederle's acclaim was a prelude to the vaster one given next year to 25-year-old Charles Augustus Lindbergh who flew "The Spirit of St. Louis" (remember?) non - stop and alone from New York to Paris.

Like the swimmer's less significant feat, Col. Lindbergh's great one captured previous accomplishments.

John William Alcock and Arthur Whitten Brown had flown the Atlantic, from Newfoundland to Ireland, in 1919, but in the mid-twenties a Charleston-dancing world at peace was also hungry for heroism. It honored those who deserved it simply and whole - heartedly.

Lindbergh is now in his 60th year, Miss Ederle is 53. The Atlantic is crossed by air many times daily, and after Albertondo's two - way channel crossing, surely now is the time for the British and the French to take the edge off the challenge of the channel by closing the gap with that often-discussed bridge or tunnel.

With the next stop the moon, it seemed appropriate to pause to spare some sentiment for yesterday's heroes.

Husband-Fooling Is Duty

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone knows it is all but impossible to day for a husband to fool his wife.

But how about wives fooling husbands?

On the evidence, it's getting easier for them all the time.

"No woman can pull the wool over my eyes," brags many a husband. Such men are pitiful examples of self-delusion.

Usually a woman has pulled the wool over their eyes so long ago they have become used to it. They have forgotten what a clear view is like.

Civilization ties husbands in knots; it merely gives wives more loose threads to knit to their own purpose.

A man is kept so busy trying to fool his boss he doesn't have the time to fool his wife, and attempts it only in what he regards as emergencies. As a result he usually fails.

But fooling a husband is both a game and a duty to a wife. She regards it as a marital necessity, for she feels if she doesn't keep him fooled she can't keep him happy.

The classic ways by which women fool their husbands are to act dumb and to say one thing to them when they mean something else.

Example of the first way: Husband, going over check stubs: "Here's one you wrote for $150. It looks like it says, 'frammis oglecrack.' What in the world was that for?"

Wife, innocently: "Oh dear, you know I can't read my own handwriting, but I know it was for something terribly important."

Actually what she did write down was "frammis oglecrack." To her it stands for $150 for 10 charm school lessons to lose weight and improve her personality. But she knows that if she told her husband she spent the money for this vital purpose, he'd go through the ceiling—thus creating an unnecessary repair bill.

Example of the second way: "Wife: 'Dear, you're looking a bit shabby, and you really can't afford to in your business. Promise me you'll buy yourself a new suit today.'"

Husband, flattered by her interest in his appearance: "Guess you're right at that, I will."

Here what the wife really meant wasn't, "You look shabby," but "I feel shabby." As soon as he buys one new suit, she'll buy two new dresses.

Old, but Simple Swindle

By George Sokolsky

Senator Thomas J. Dodd, of Connecticut, calls renewed attention to an old swindle.

The swindle is a very simple one. No Communist country recognizes the right of private ownership of property. Therefore parcels or money sent to that country are the property of the government just as everything else is. Certain modifications of property ownership have developed in recent years, but they are subject to government negotiation without trial.

The General Parcel and Travel Company at 135 West 14 Street, New York City handled transactions such as the transfer of American gifts to Russians. The predecessor of this agency was Jacob Colos who was a spy, using a travel agency as a cover. Senator Dodd said of this agency:

"While the director of General Parcel, Mr. Leonid Tankel, is an American citizen, and while the company is incorporated under American law, there is little doubt that it was created by Intourist especially for the purpose of serving as its representative in the area of parcel remittances to the Soviet Union. General Parcel and Travel Company has twelve branch offices in various parts of the country. The directors of these branches are American citizens, for the most part refugees themselves, who enjoy friendly relations with the refugee and immigrant community because they are considered non-Communists."

According to Senator Dodd, although the heavy duties have been prepaid in this country, almost 6,000 parcels have been returned to the United States from Soviet Russia on the grounds that the duty on the contents had not been prepaid. Who got the money? Why are some parcels rotting in the New York Post Office? The money was paid by the sender but this was denied by the carrier who received the money.

This question has arisen for many years. Relatives in this country discover that parcels they sent to Soviet Russia never arrived at their destination. There is really nothing anyone can do about it, except to send another parcel of food or clothing or whatever gift one wishes to give.

Senator Dodd says: "I do not know at what point in the transmission line the prepaid duties disappeared. The money may very well have disappeared in the office of the General Parcel and Travel Company, and not in the Intourist office. But I feel that this is a situation in which the Soviet authorities should voluntarily assume responsibility for the actions of their hand-chosen contractors in this country."

I think this is rather naive because under Russian law, such parcels as Senator Dodd describes are private property and are therefore subject to government confiscation in Soviet Russia. Why should one be surprised that this happens? Since the earliest days, Soviet Russia has been confiscating private property which it does not recognize as lawful. Why not do so now? Why permit Russians to believe that Americans have superior consumers' goods?

It is the proper function of the United States Post Office and the Treasury to investigate the activities not only of the General Parcel and Travel Company but Intourist to make sure that Americans who pay for services get what they pay for. As all Russian companies are owned by the Russian government, when a problem arises concerning them, the inquiry becomes a diplomatic incident because what has to be investigated is the Russian government.

This then is a serious matter. For instance, what happens if an American leaves a bequest to a relative in Russia? Who gets the money? Usually, the Russian government gets the money or the property, but as it does not wish to disclose itself, he property lies fallow in a bank in this country.

This entire procedure needs to be investigated very thoroughly so that American citizens are not gyped under the peculiar Soviet property system. The Russians have a right to pursue any system of private property that they choose, but they are not entitled to steal money or goods sent from this country. It is not permissible to steal money or goods sent from this country. It is not permissible to steal under any circumstances.

Senator Dodd has hit on a very interesting subject which ought to give the Congressional committee of which he is a member an opportunity for interesting study. Congressional committees can be kept very busy uncovering Russian tricks.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Chapter Members Hold Hawaiian Extravaganza in Shea Home

"Aloha" Festive Greeting for Beta Sigma Phi's

The Kappa Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was feted with a Hawaiian Luau in honor of members, pledges and guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shea, 494 E. Main St. recently.

Bright torches and Japanese lanterns lighted the entrance way where alohas greeted each Wahini as they arrived and were presented with Hawaiian leis and palm tree name tags.

The Hawaiian theme was carried out with Hawaiian murals and an attractive charcoal sketch of a Hawaiian girl by Thomas Shea on the walls. The party rooms were enhanced by a beautiful idol water fountain with floating flowers, shells, greenery and floating burning candles. An arrangement of Hawaiian flowers interspersed with fern centered the refreshment table which was draped with Hawaiian palm tree cloth and candles in cocoanut halves decorated with miniature palm trees glowing at each end.

At one end of the table was a foil-decorated pineapple which was awarded to Mrs. George Brown as the door prize.

Shish - Kabobs, banana bread, Hawaiian punch and fruit, served in a beautifully decorated watermelon basket entwined in flowers, were served.

Orchids glittered with silver and net were presented to the ladies for favors.

A game, "Pass the Cocoanut", was played by the group with a cocoanut dressed in Hawaiian attire. The winner was Mrs. Donald Stage and she was presented the cocoanut as a prize.

A skit entitled "Hawaiian Eye" was introduced by Mrs. Lawrence Hartman and presented by Mrs. Thomas Shea as Ponce-ponce and Mrs. Emil Kurtz as Cricket and narrated by Mrs. Robert Dahl.

It was a mystery about Beta Sigma Phi and kept the audience in suspense to the end.

A Hawaiian puppet show, "With Lotus Blossom and Moon Beam in Beta Sigma Phi Land", was announced by Mrs. Thomas Shea and presented by Mrs. Robert Bell and Mrs. Howard Snook. The black lighted puppet theatre was decorated with yellow roses, the sorority flower, and the base was centered with one large yellow rose. Beta Sigma Phi literature and traditions completed the theatre decorations. The puppets were appropriately attired in Hawaiian Muu Muu's leis and other finery.

Everyone was dressed in Hawaiian costume and the prizes for the best dressed costumes went to Mrs. Charles Curlett and Mrs. George Brown.

Serving on the party committee were Mrs. Thomas Shea, Mrs. Robert Bell, Mrs. Howard Snook, Mrs. Lawrence Hartman, and Mrs. Robert Dahl.

Guests and pledges present were Miss Jane Badertscher, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Albert Lovett, Mrs. Ray Sebulsky and Mrs. Donald Stage.

Members present were: Miss Mary McLaughlin, Miss Beverly Southward, and Mesdames: Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. Charles Curlett, Mrs. William Curtis, Mrs. Robert Dahl, Mrs. Lawrence Hartman, Mrs. Emil Kurtz, Mrs. Thomas Shea, and Mrs. Howard Snook.

Social Happenings

The Circleville Herald, Wed. October 4, 1961
Circleville, Ohio

Mrs. Ralph Haughn To Head Commercial Point Gardeners

Mrs. Ralph Haughn was installed as the new president of the Commercial Point Garden Club in impressive ceremonies during a regular meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Orville Dountz.

The installation service was conducted by Mrs. Guy Gulick. Each incoming officer was given a corsage by Mrs. Ralph Phillips, retiring president, as Mrs. Gulick compared the flowers to the duties of each office in brief introductory remarks.

Mrs. Francis Hoover was sworn in as first vice president; Mrs. Orville Dountz, second vice president; Mrs. Harold Gulick, secretary; and Mrs. Walter Writsel, treasurer.

The meeting opened with devotion by Mrs. Writsel. Mrs. Phillips conducted the start of the business meeting with members answering roll call by describing what they might do to improve the club.

Mrs. Guy Gulick reported in detail on proceedings of the annual state convention of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, held earlier in September on the Ohio University campus, Athens. The theme for the two-day session was a workshop developing many aspects of action on the Association's motto, "Knowing, Growing, Showing and Sharing."

The Scioto Twp. School notified the blue and the Commercial Point Junior Garden Club students were now using the first book of the set of "Life's Nature Books" purchased by the two clubs for school purposes.

Mrs. Haughn was in charge of the remainder of the meeting. She entertained members by showing photographs she had taken of arrangements during the Commercial Point Homecoming Flower Show. Next meeting of the club will be Nov. 1 in Orient Methodist Church annex with Mrs. Kenneth Richards and Mrs. Vernis Burgett as hostesses. Mrs. Paul Beers assisted Mrs. Dountz with social arrangements for the closing of the meeting.

It was announced the fall general meeting of the Pickaway County Council of Garden Clubs will be Nov. 20 in Derby Methodist Church social rooms.

Thanksgiving and Christmas decorations utilizing floral arrangements will highlight the Council session. The display is to be handled by the Darby Valley of Harrisburg.

BPW Members Attend Annual Dinner Meeting

Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club members were guests yesterday evening of the Washington C. H. BPW group during an annual public relations dinner meeting.

The program was highlighted with a talk by Mrs. Kate R. Swift of Wright - Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton. Her subject covered her 20 years as an undercover agent and private detective for the State of Ohio.

Attending the dinner meeting from Circleville were Mrs. James Ullman, Mrs. J. B. Work, Mrs. Anna Chandler, Miss Mary Howard, Miss Daisy Karleskint and Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad.

Chapter 90 OES To Meet Tuesday

Circleville Chapter No. 90, Order of Eastern Star, will meet 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Masonic Temple.

Club officials said this meeting will honor all past matrons and past patrons of the local unit.

When you are simmering a boneless pork shoulder but in water, add a sliced onion and a large bay leaf.

Gautier Family Group Enjoys Annual Dinner

Children of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gautier met for their annual dinner Sunday in Shade's Dining Room in Canal Winchester.

A table was decorated with multi-colored flowers and Mrs. Gladys Norris wore an attractive carnation corsage, the gift of her grandchildren as the oldest living child of the original Gautier family.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. William Norris of Ashville, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reed of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. William Ensminger of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gautier of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Hartford City, Ind., and Miss Carol Ann Ensminger of Cincinnati.

A general visiting and picture-snapping session followed the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Reed and Mr. and Mrs. William Ensminger and Carol called on Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davy and children of near Marcy Sunday afternoon.

Additional visitors Sunday at the Davy home were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Fausnaugh and Eugene Fausnaugh of Robtown. The Reeds and Ensmingers were Saturday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gautier of Columbus.

EUB Church Group To Sponsor Supper

The EUB Church young married people's class will hold a spaghetti supper Oct. 16 at the First EUB Church Service Center, with serving from 5 to 7 p. m.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting any member of the group.

Monrovia Garden Club Has First Meet of Season

The Monrovia Garden Club met Monday in the home of Mrs. Herman Porter for the first meeting of the new season.

Mrs. Clyde Michel, president, opened the meeting with a prayer. Devotional conducted by Mrs. Lloyd Neff followed.

Roll call was answered by 13 members naming the favorite flowers in their garden.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. C. W. Hedges, and Mrs. Edith Koch, of the Scioto Garden Club, and Mrs. Bertha Porter, of the Williamsport Garden Club.

Mrs. Michel named committees for the coming year. She announced that Mrs. Herman Porter is contact chairman for Pickaway County.

Mrs. Herman Porter, program leader, gave a reading entitled, "Your Gardening Interests Reveal Your Personality." She also showed slides of the many gardens that she viewed during the summer months.

Mothers Club Fete Set at Capital

Capital University Mother's Club will hold the second meeting of the current season in Schumaker Hall on the campus at 8 p. m., October 13.

A parent night program is planned to hear Dr. Hilmar Grimm, head of the college history department, speak on the topic, "The Appeal of Communism."

Mrs. G. C. Gast, will present the devotion. Mrs. Rowland Hepner and Mrs. Lester Huber will serve as hospitality chairman.

Mrs. Georgia Dick reported on her trip to the Swiss Festival at Sugar Creek.

It was announced that Mrs. Harry J. Smith, Mrs. Frank E. Smith and Mrs. Michel will present "Preparing Rose Gardens for Winter" over radio station WCHI on November 14.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Bertha Porter gave a reading, "Our Most Prodigious Season."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Porter assisted by Mrs. Arthur Dick.

The next meeting will be November 6 at the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric office, 215 N. Front St., Columbus; the subject will be "Christmas Lighting."

Judy Woodward Is DeMolay Sweetheart

Judy Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Woodward, reigned as the DeMolay Sweetheart during the installation of officers of the Circleville DeMolay chapter Saturday evening.

She wore a red wool jersey dress with black accessories and was presented a corsage of red roses by Master Councilor Gary R. George.

Miss Woodward's name was inadvertently omitted from an earlier story.

Value of Faith Discussed by Atlanta WSCS

The September meeting of the Atlanta WSCS was held in the home of Mrs. Charles W. Mills with Mrs. Donald Kempton, society president, presiding.

Mrs. Harry Morris and Mrs. Ul-in McGhee used the topic "Affirmation of Faith," as the subject of an interesting program dealing with the need for spiritual fortification in everyday life. "Take Time to be Holy" — sung in unison by the members — was used as a symbolic confirmation of the Christian faith.

Mrs. Sherman Hawk, spiritual life secretary, presented opening devotion. Mrs. Ercell Speakman was enrolled as a new member of the society.

After the Benediction refreshments were served during an informal social period. The group's mystery sisters were identified and a contest drawing was held for the coming year.

Included in the 38 persons attending the session were Mrs. Gard Hawk of Chillicothe, Van Skinner of Clarksburg and Debbie Morris.

This month's meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Warren Hobbles with Mrs. Florence Jewell, Mrs. George Donahue, Mrs. Nellie Creighton and Miss Ellen Creighton as assistant hostesses. Mrs. Robert Conway and Mrs. Ralph Smith Jr. will be in charge of the program.

Guild 12 Finds Touring Wealth Near Circleville

Within 100 mile of Circleville lies a wealth of culture and scenic grandeur suitable for the best of extended vacations or short week-end trips.

Members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 12 decided this during a unique program at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Bower, Route 1, Monday night.

Mrs. Sterling Poling, program director for the evening, first distributed Ohio highway maps to the members. In these circles were drawn encompassing 50 and 100 mile distances from Circleville.

Mrs. Poling asked each member to study the map and suggest places of interest to visit within each circle. The group recorded findings on charts then compared selections and reviewed the total project.

It was found hundreds of interesting locations and operations, such as colleges and universities, Perkins Observatory, caves, museums, historic homes and parks, had been marked.

One member observed, "It brings the importance of our area much closer home."

Refreshments were served at the close of the program by Mrs. Bower. Mrs. Leslie Dearth will act as hostess for the November meeting.

Hopkins Home Scene for Meet

Fourteen members and three guests were present for a meeting of the Mt. Pleasant WSCS yesterday in the home of Mrs. Forrest Hopkins. Mrs. Robert Miller was assistant hostess.

Mrs. Sam Kilian, president, opened the meeting by leading group singing of "What a Friend". Mrs. Ross Moorehead presented readings taken from Revelations, chapter 21, verses 1-17. Mrs. Kilian read meditations.

The group discussed the annual chicken supper scheduled Nov. 2 from 5:30 to 8 p. m. at the Mt. Pleasant Methodist Church. Refreshments were served following the business meeting.

Next meeting has been scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Nov. 7 in the home of Mrs. John Dearth, Route 2. Mrs. Frank Palmer will serve as co-hostess.

General Guild Approves New Constitution, Buys Gear

An amended constitution and the purchase of new hospital equipment occupied the center of attention during the September Forum Meeting of the General Guild of Berger Hospital.

Changes in the organization's governing rules were approved after review and Mrs. Truman Eberly, the president, recommended the revisions to be studies by every guild.

Purchase of a new refrigerator with controlled temperature for laboratory blood samples was approved by the members. Formal announcement was also made of the purchase of an incubator for blood cultures in the hospital's laboratory.

Chairmen of divisions for the annual Guild bazaar Nov. 17 from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. in the former Block Shoe Store on E. Main St. were introduced: Mrs. David Yates, Mrs. George Young and Mrs. Carl Benhase, general; Mrs. William Blanton and Mrs. Carl Bach, doll tickets; Mrs. Hewitt Har-mount and Mrs. John Griffith, publicity.

The bazaar room will be open the day preceding the sale so booths and displays may be readied. Judging of the booths will be 10 a. m. the next day.

Some of the articles to be offered at the bazaar include puppets, mittens, bibs, tree decorations, doll clothes, bean bags and candles. Guild No. 38 will sponsor an old book sale. Mrs. Robert Ransom head of the committee to secure volumes to be offered.

Miss Ellen Leist, Berger Hospital superintendent, presented 1961-62 project lists to each chairman, and extended her appreciation to the Guild for the many gifts given the hospital.

The meeting was concluded with an informal social hour.

Local BPW To Host Clubs Of District 10

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Circleville will be hostess for the fall meeting of all BPW Clubs in District No. 10 Friday in the Circleville High School building.

The program is under the direction of Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad, district director. The days festivities will begin with a coffee hour at 9 a. m. This will be followed by devotions and a business meeting at 10 a. m. Lunch will be served in the high school cafeteria at 12:30 p. m. and the final business meeting will take place immediately following the lunch.

Mrs. Ethel Cowan, Xenia, will be the state representative present at this meeting.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. Esther Work immediately for the dinner.

my teen-age experts a boy and girl who go "steady" have agreed to go with no one else, and make it "official" by exchanging class rings, pins or some other symbolic trinket. When a couple goes "steadily" they simply date each other, to the exclusion of others, but there is no "commitment" or exchange of trinkets.

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with playing cupid? There is a young man who works with my husband. He is such a nice, clean person. And good-looking, too. He is unmarried, and always alone. I have a cousin about his age. She lives at home caring for her invalid mother. She is a fine girl who has very little social life outside her church. I would like to see these two lovely people get together, but my husband says to leave the man alone because he looks so happy. I have an idea these two would hit it off, but I don't know how to go about getting them together. Should I try? If so, how?

PLAYING CUPID
DEAR PLAYING: Invite the couple to a little gettogether at your home. But invite others, too, so your scheme won't be so obvious. Cupid does some of his best work by appointment.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Joblessness Still Declining

October Total Seen
Below 4 Million Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joblessness dropped by 457,000 in September and should decline below four million this month for the first time in a year, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

At 4,085,000, the September unemployment total was 6.8 per cent of the civil labor force—a disappointingly small change from the August rate of 6.9 per cent, equivalent to the high point of the recession.

However, the department's manpower expert, Dr. Seymour Wolfbein, said there were elements in the September picture which indicate there should be "some real improvement" in October.

Joblessness among adult men dropped more than seasonally, as did long-term unemployment.

There also was a drop in the number of workers working short hours for economic reasons.

Total employment dropped by 1.5 million in September to a total of 67,038,000.

This was about twice the decline normally associated with the return of young workers to school, and was attributed to the severe curtailment of farm work due to Hurricane Carla during the week in which the Bureau of Labor Statistics made its job survey.

Wolfbein acknowledged he was surprised that the inroads into joblessness were no greater than they were. "Basically, there has not been any fundamental shift in the rate of employment for 10 consecutive months," he told reporters.

But several aspects of the employment picture were encouraging, he said, and lead to the assumption that joblessness should decline in October to a point even below the 3.9-million level which can be expected if only the normal seasonal movements occur.

"We are very hopeful that by the end of the year we will see some genuine reduction in the unemployment totals," Wolfbein said.

Unemployment among adult men the key group of workers that is most carefully watched by the bureau, was reduced substantially. The rate dropped from 6.1 per cent in August to 5.7 per cent last month. The number of men and women who have been idle 15 weeks or more declined by nearly 200,000 to 1.3 million.

Nonfarm employment declined just about seasonally to 61.4 million, but this total was the highest for any September on record.

Vice President To Head Cleveland Conference

CLEVELAND (AP) — The public is invited to a Whitehouse regional conference on urban and economic problems Nov. 14 and 15 headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Robert C. Weaver, housing and home finance administrator.

Panel members will discuss full employment and economic growth, opportunities for cities, and opportunities for senior citizens.

$2 Million in Grants Reported by UofC

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has received almost $2 million in grants and bequests since the last board of trustees meeting in June, according to President Walter C. Langsam.

The biggest single grant, he said, was $177,857 from the Air Force for research in aerospace engineering and chemical and metallurgical engineering.

Pressing Problems Debated At Lengthy Council Session

Several pressing problems faced City Council during a lengthy meeting conducted last night in City Hall.

An early discussion centered on McHenry Ditch, an important factor in the proposed Northridge Road Storm Sewer System. Councilmen Joe Bell and Charles Kirkpatrick reported they inspected the ditch several days ago for purposes of determining what must be done in the area.

They reported on likely dredging, deepening and widening needed. Both stated work should be started as soon as possible.

Availability of funds loomed as a stumbling block. Unofficial estimate of cost has been set at about $2,000.

COUNCILMAN Harold Clifton requested the necessary money be made available now, considering this is the best time of the season for such work.

The lawmakers agreed that more facts are needed for the ditch project. The service committee was advised to study the problem along with the service director and the city solicitor in regard to legislation necessary to get the work started.

City Health Commissioner John Himrod presented Council with a proposal for decreasing the pesky pigeon problem here. The campaign would be conducted by the Wildlife Division, U. S. Department of the Interior.

Himrod said only a nominal fee would be charged and that the pigeon ridding effort would

Way Found To Curb Clots In Surgery

CHICAGO (AP) — Two University of Rochester (N.Y.) surgeons showed experimentally today how blood clots, which they said periled some operations, might be prevented with a negative electric current.

Drs. Seymour I. Schwartz and John W. Richardson demonstrated how a negative electric current theoretically repels blood materials which are known to carry a negative surface charge.

They said such materials can cause blood clots, the biggest problem in surgery of the small blood vessels.

The two doctors told a session of the 1961 clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons of experiments in which they replaced small sections of dogs' veins with steel tubes.

In the tubes not receiving a negative current, clots formed consistently within an hour and ultimately blocked the blood flow. But they said, in the tubes receiving the current there was little blood clot development.

be conducted in the winter when most song birds are not in the area.

The lawmakers carried a motion to authorize the city health head to proceed with the project. Himrod explained that numerous pigeon complaints are received each year, adding that the dense population of birds here cause an annual health hazard.

Edward Shannon, 455 Watt St., made his second consecutive Council appearance to request a fire hydrant on Watt St. He proposed location within an area bounded by Sawyer's Garage and Lancaster Pike.

SHANNON said fire protection in this area is not adequate and is cause for an increased insurance rate. The matter was referred to the safety committee for investigation.

City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins informed the lawmakers that easements for Sanitary Sewer District No. 2 have been prepared.

Robbins explained that the easements, an essential factor in getting the sewer project under way, should be gone over and conclusions made concerning prices and presentation to property owners involved. Dewey Speakman, former city service director, has been mentioned as a possible negotiator.

Action on the easements is expected following an anticipated meeting between Council members, Service Director Harlow Arledge, Frank Baum of Burgess & Niple Consulting Engineers and Speakman if he decides to serve as negotiator.

NUNS DEFROCKED — Santa Bazzarini shows a bruised knee in San Dona di Piave, Italy, after she was expelled from the convent of the Poor Clares with five other nuns and a mother superior. The nuns were defrocked for rioting in opposition to a new mother superior. Two policemen, three friars and two civilians restored order after two hours but they reportedly were excommunicated under canon law for violating the cloister.

The field emission microscope can see individual atoms. But scientists want to see smaller things, like the atom nucleus, which is only 1,100,000 the size of the atom. No microscope yet invented can do that.

Immigration Hearing Slated in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn has ordered bond of $15,000 and set a hearing for Oct. 24 for Leonard A. Smart, charged with illegal re-entry into the United States.

The U.S. Immigration Service said Smart was deported to his native Canada in 1948 and returned without permission. A charge of first-degree murder against him in the Aug. 15 slaying of Louis Hamblin of Cleveland was dropped by Medina County authorities recently.

Young Ham

CHATHAM, N. J. (AP) — Curtis Spraitzar learned how to contact other ham radio operators before he could read.

And no one was too surprised when Curt, one of the youngest hams in the nation, received his amateur radio license at the age of 7. His brothers Stephen, 14, and Tamper, 12, are both hams.

Even the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan W. Spraitzar, are beginning to catch on. They say they have to intercept those messages at the dinner table.

'ATOMIZED?' — Mrs. Jacqueline Majoni and son Pierre, 5, are shown at home in Paris after she filed a damage suit against the French Atomic Energy Commission, charging that she and the boy are suffering from anemia because of her atomic job. She alleges she contracted the disease at the Atomic Energy Center in Saclay. Pierre was born after she fell ill, and she claims he also suffers from anemia. A tribunal of judges will take it from here.

Cincy Soldier Relief Appropriation Held Up

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Hamilton County commissioners have refused to appropriate $317,276 to the county soldiers and sailors relief commission in spite of an order by Common Pleas Court Judge Otis Hess.

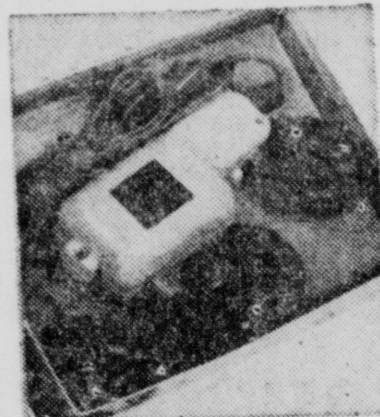

Commissioner Vincent H. Beckman said the commissioners will seek a new trial and that no more money will be granted to the relief group until the legal dispute is settled. The relief group sued the commissioners when the county failed to meet its budget request this year.

Joblessness Still Declining

October Total Seen
Below 4 Million Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joblessness dropped by 457,000 in September and should decline below four million this month for the first time in a year, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

At 4,085,000, the September unemployment total was 6.8 per cent of the civil labor force—a disappointingly small change from the August rate of 6.9 per cent, equivalent to the high point of the recession.

However, the department's manpower expert, Dr. Seymour Wolfbein, said there were elements in the September picture which indicate there should be "some real improvement" in October.

Joblessness among adult men dropped more than seasonally, as did long-term unemployment.

There also was a drop in the number of workers working short hours for economic reasons.

Total employment dropped by 1.5 million in September to a total of 67,038,000.

This was about twice the decline normally associated with the return of young workers to school, and was attributed to the severe curtailment of farm work due to Hurricane Carla during the week in which the Bureau of Labor Statistics made its job survey.

Wolfbein acknowledged he was surprised that the inroads into joblessness were no greater than they were. "Basically, there has not been any fundamental shift in the rate of employment for 10 consecutive months," he told reporters.

But several aspects of the employment picture were encouraging, he said, and lead to the assumption that joblessness should decline in October to a point even below the 3.9-million level which can be expected if only the normal seasonal movements occur.

"We are very hopeful that by the end of the year we will see some genuine reduction in the unemployment totals," Wolfbein said.

Unemployment among adult men the key group of workers that is most carefully watched by the bureau, was reduced substantially. The rate dropped from 6.1 per cent in August to 5.7 per cent last month. The number of men and women who have been idle 15 weeks or more declined by nearly 200,000 to 1.3 million.

Nonfarm employment declined just about seasonally to 61.4 million, but this total was the highest for any September on record.

Vice President To Head Cleveland Conference

CLEVELAND (AP)—The public is invited to a Whitehouse regional conference on urban and economic problems Nov. 14 and 15 headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Robert C. Weaver, housing and home finance administrator.

Panel members will discuss full employment and economic growth, opportunities for cities, and opportunities for senior citizens.

$2 Million in Grants Reported by UofC

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has received almost $2 million in grants and bequests since the last board of trustees meeting in June, according to President Walter C. Langsam.

The biggest single grant, he said, was $717,857 from the Air Force for research in aerospace engineering and chemical and metallurgical engineering.

Pressing Problems Debated At Lengthy Council Session

Several pressing problems faced City Council during a lengthy meeting conducted last night in City Hall.

An early discussion centered on McHenry Ditch, an important factor in the proposed Northridge Road Storm Sewer System. Councilmen Joe Bell and Charles Kirkpatrick reported they inspected the ditch several days ago for purposes of determining what must be done in the area.

They reported on likely dredging, deepening and widening needed. Both stated work should be started as soon as possible.

Availability of funds loomed as a stumbling block. Unofficial estimate of cost has been set at about $2,000.

COUNCILMAN Harold Clifton requested the necessary money be made available now, considering this is the best time of the season for such work.

The lawmakers agreed that more facts are needed for the ditch project. The service committee was advised to study the problem along with the service director and the city solicitor in regard to legislation necessary to get the work started.

City Health Commissioner John Himrod presented Council with a proposal for decreasing the pesky pigeon problem here. The campaign would be conducted by the Wildlife Division, U. S. Department of the Interior.

Himrod said only a nominal fee would be charged and that the pigeon ridding effort would

Way Found To Curb Clots In Surgery

CHICAGO (AP)—Two University of Rochester (N.Y.) surgeons showed experimentally today how blood clots, which they said periled some operations, might be prevented with a negative electric current.

Drs. Seymour I. Schwartz and John W. Richardson demonstrated how a negative electric current theoretically repels blood materials which are known to carry a negative surface charge.

They said such materials can cause blood clots, the biggest problem in surgery of the small blood vessels.

The two doctors told a session of the 1961 clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons of experiments in which they replaced small sections of dogs' veins with steel tubes.

In the tubes not receiving a negative current, clots formed consistently within an hour and ultimately blocked the blood flow. But they said, in the tubes receiving the current there was little blood clot development.

be conducted in the winter when most song birds are not in the area.

The lawmakers carried a motion to authorize the city health head to proceed with the project. Himrod explained that numerous pigeon complaints are received each year, adding that the dense population of birds here cause an annual health hazard.

Edward Shannon, 455 Watt St., made his second consecutive Council appearance to request a fire hydrant on Watt St. He proposed location within an area bounded by Sawyer's Garage and Lancaster Pike.

SHANNON said fire protection in this area is not adequate and is cause for an increased insurance rate. The matter was referred to the safety committee for investigation.

City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins informed the lawmakers that easements for Sanitary Sewer District No. 2 have been prepared.

Robbins explained that the easements, an essential factor in getting the sewer project under way, should be gone over and conclusions made concerning prices and presentation to property owners involved. Dewey Speakman, former city service director, has been mentioned as a possible negotiator.

Action on the easements is expected following an anticipated meeting between Council members, Service Director Harlow Arledge, Frank Baum of Burgess & Niple Consulting Engineers and Speakman if he decides to serve as negotiator.

The nuns were defrocked for rioting in opposition to a new mother superior. Two policemen, three friars and two civilians restored order after two hours but they reportedly were excommunicated under canon law for violating the cloister.

Immigration Hearing Slated in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn has ordered bond of $15,000 and set a hearing for Oct. 24 for Leonard A. Smart, charged with illegal re-entry into the United States.

The U.S. Immigration Service said Smart was deported to his native Canada in 1948 and returned without permission. A charge of first-degree murder against him in the Aug. 15 slaying of Louis Hamblin of Cleveland was dropped by Medina County authorities recently.

Young Ham

CHATHAM, N. J. (AP) — Curtis Spraitzar learned how to contact other ham radio operators before he could read.

And no one was too surprised when Curt, one of the youngest hams in the nation, received his amateur radio license at the age of 7. His brothers Stephen, 14, and Tamper, 12, are both hams.

Even the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan W. Spraitzar, are beginning to catch on. They say they have to ins order to "intercept those messages at the dinner table."

Cincy Soldier Relief Appropriation Held Up

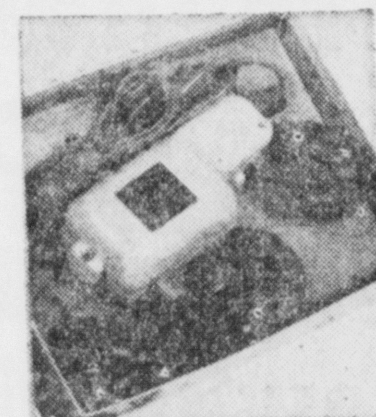

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County commissioners have refused to appropriate $317,276 to the county soldiers and sailors relief commission in spite of an order by Common Pleas Court Judge Otis Hess.

Commissioner Vincent H. Beckman said the commissioners will seek a new trial and that no more money will be granted to the relief group until the legal dispute is settled. The relief group sued the commissioners when the county failed to meet its budget request this year.

Underground Park Panel Is Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle completed appointments today to the four-member State Underground Parking Commission, which has authority to construct a self-liquidating parking garage beneath the Statehouse grounds.

Named to the commission are these four Columbus men: Edward F. Wagner, vice president of the Nationwide Development Co.; David T. Hayward president of the Ohio Tractor & Implement Co.; William Luepper, attorney and chairman of the former Underground Parking Commission which went out of existence in 1958 when the Ohio Supreme Court ruled a former law invalid; and Raymond McLean, president of the Jaeger Machine Co.

The state public works director, Ted J. Kauer, will be an ex-officio member of the commission.

Knepper, a Democrat, and McLean, a Republican, were appointed to the bi-partisan commission Monday. Wagner, a Democrat and Hayward, a Republican, were named today.

The nonsalaried commission was created by a law, effective Monday, which was enacted at the recent session of the Ohio General Assembly to build self-liquidating underground parking facilities anywhere in Ohio.

Home Fallout Shelter Nearly Kills 2 Men

HAMPTON BEACH, N.H. (AP) — Two men testing a fallout shelter narrowly escaped death today when the air gave out in the concrete structure.

William Kennedy, 34, a restaurant operator, and his friend Robert Moore, 22, entered the above-ground shelter Monday and had planned to stay inside for five days.

Kennedy called his wife — their adjacent home — over an intercommunications system and told her he was having trouble breathing. He said his head felt as though it was "going to explode."

Moore complained of the same symptoms.

Mrs. Kennedy rushed to the reinforced steel door. She told her husband to turn the handle and he finally managed to open the heavy door, and fell to the ground beside her.

The men were taken to a hospital, where oxygen was administered. They were released a short time later.

Kennedy and Moore were compiling reports on psychological and sanitary conditions in the confines of the shelter.

Paris' Louvre—It serves as school for 800 youngsters.

Famous Museum Offers Art Course for Children

By JOSEPH WHITT
Central Press Association
Correspondent

PARIS — Would you like your child to attend art school at the world's most famous museum — the Louvre?

L'Atelier des Moins de 15 Ans (Workshop for the Under 15-Year-Olds), as this unusual school is called, has 800 pupils — French and foreign — between the ages of 6 and 15.

"Our program includes training in methods and art appreciation," said one of the teachers. "Most children find museums boring and forbidding. We try to make the Louvre alive and exciting."

"Lesson one is simple. The child merely places a dab of paint on a sheet of paper. Then he is told to use this color in any way he wishes. He may draw whatever comes to his mind."

"This exercise releases the child's inhibitions. It gives him familiarity with art materials. Some results, admittedly, look like extreme modern paintings."

"In later sessions various subjects are assigned. Why assigned? Because with no guidance the ordinary child draws the same subject again and again. He depicts cowboys or the queen of England. And that's that."

"We encourage life sketching. Occasionally our pupils put on costumes and pose for the class. Clowns are top favorites. From this we go to costume portraits in the museum. The transition makes art real and natural."

"Other life sketching — to teach rapid drawing — is done with animals. The Louvre, home of the Mona Lisa, is also the home of roosters, doves and rabbits."

"We don't assign classes on an age basis. It's good for different age levels to mix. They learn from one another."

"We want art to be real for the children. So they design such things as plates, scarves and handkerchiefs. Then these designs are actually used to make these objects. They make a permanent art record for the child."

"Some of these designs were good enough to be adopted by artisans and sold commercially."

"We have only one problem — getting rid of our pupils. Very few leave before the age of 16, the limit set by our regulations."

One of the pupils stopped working and said, "I don't know if any of us will be another Picasso, but we've learned to appreciate art and to see with a clear eye. And we've learned to consider the Louvre our second home."

Then he went back to his easel and proceeded to wield his brush with strong, confident strokes.

Peace Move Tied to Fate Of Children

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—A new approach to peace—getting nations to recognize that the planet's one billion children, rich or poor, are all in the same troubled boat—was suggested here today.

International experts in various fields gathered at Duke University for a unique symposium designed to introduce, and seek support for a novel concept.

This was that the world's kids constitute a single unit—a "commonwealth of children," transcending all national, racial, and cultural boundaries — and that all of them need a better break from their elders so they can develop into "a mature adult society with a capacity for mutual understanding."

The five-day symposium, formally opening tonight, will feature discussions by specialists from the United States, Canada, England, Switzerland and India in the fields of education, culture, population trends, economics and health. The aim of the meeting is to stimulate action programs, by all nations, looking towards "a better life for children now and a better world tomorrow."

The conference was arranged to honor Dr. Wilbur C. Davison internationally known children's doctor, who recently retired as dean of the Duke University Medical School.

Life on Mars Said Possible

New Study of Canals Told by Scientist

WASHINGTON (AP) — A research chemist said today the canals of Mars are so like a man-made rail network and so unlike ordinary geological cracks they raise the possibility the planet may be inhabited.

The chemist, Wells Alan Webb of Berkeley, Calif., said that because the canals raise the possibility of a prior civilization, any attempt to send manned expeditions to Mars should be preceded by unmanned probes that could "provoke a reaction" and detect any form of intelligent life that may exist.

Webb, an official of Hexcel Products Inc., said a flight near Mars would give accurate pictures of the canal networks, but not enough other information. He said a second kind of probe should be adopted to give out strong signals and to monitor the radio spectrum of Mars.

If signals or some other action come from Mars in response, he said, they could be relayed to earth by radio and a study of the signals could lead to the establishment of two-way communication.

An unmanned device to test surface reactions also should precede a manned landing, Webb said.

Webb said that if all nations would join to send to Mars an expedition of men and women, and to keep it regularly supplied, the colonists could establish an artificial society with the sun as the primary source of energy.

People, animals and growing plants would be sustained in an oxygen-enriched atmosphere in side pressurized greenhouses, he said.

Hoffa Crew Loses in Cincy Dispute

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Teamsters Union's delaying tactics in trying to overcome the rebellion of 4,000 members of four Cincinnati locals seems to have failed.

John C. Getreu, regional National Labor Relations Board director, Tuesday ordered that an election be held to let members of the largest defecting group—the 2200 dairy drivers—vote whether they want to quit the Teamsters.

The dairy drivers voted to leave the International in August, but the validity of his action was challenged by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Rebel leader James T. Luken, former president of Teamsters Local 98 and leader of the now-independent Milk & Ice Cream Drivers & Dairy Employees Union of Greater Cincinnati and vicinity, then petitioned the NLRB for an election.

In granting the election, Getreu upheld the action of an NLRB examiner who accused Teamsters attorneys of deliberately stalling the issue.

Getreu set no date for the election. He said the Teamsters have 13 days, including mailing time, to appeal his ruling in Washington.

He said that if the appeal is denied, he will call a meeting between the two unions concerned and the Greater Cincinnati Milk and Ice Cream Dealers Association to determine details of the election.

If no agreement is reached at the meeting, Getreu said, he would decide the details himself.

Governor Awaiting Report From Parole Panel on Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has announced the reprieve of a condemned slayer, the impending resignation of Ohio Penitentiary's warden, and the appointment of a new 15-member Ohio Commission on Aging.

Clarence V. Ferguson 19, of Cleveland, who was to have been electrocuted at Ohio Penitentiary Friday, got a 30-day reprieve to Nov. 3. The governor granted it, he said Tuesday, in the absence of a pardon and parole commission clemency report. The commission met before noon and reached a secret recommendation on clemency for Ferguson, but DiSalle said the report had not reached him by afternoon.

Beryl C. Sacks, the penitentiary warden, is resigning effective Nov. 1, the governor said in confirming earlier reports that Sacks planned to quit. DiSalle said Sacks gave health reasons for deciding to give up the $15,000-a-year post he took less than two years ago.

Ferguson was condemned to death and Louis (Slim) Thornton got a life sentence when a three-judge court tried them in the $5 robbery-slashing last March 4 of drug store operator Benjamin Kaufman, 62, in Cleveland.

Both Ferguson and Thornton are Negroes.

The new commission on aging will continue the work of the previous governor's commission established two years ago to prepare an Ohio report for the 1961 White House Conference on Aging. DiSalle noted that the White House conference recommended the state establish continuing commissions to survey and bring to public attention the problems of the increasing elderly population.

The commission members, civic leaders from government business, labor and charitable organizations, are:

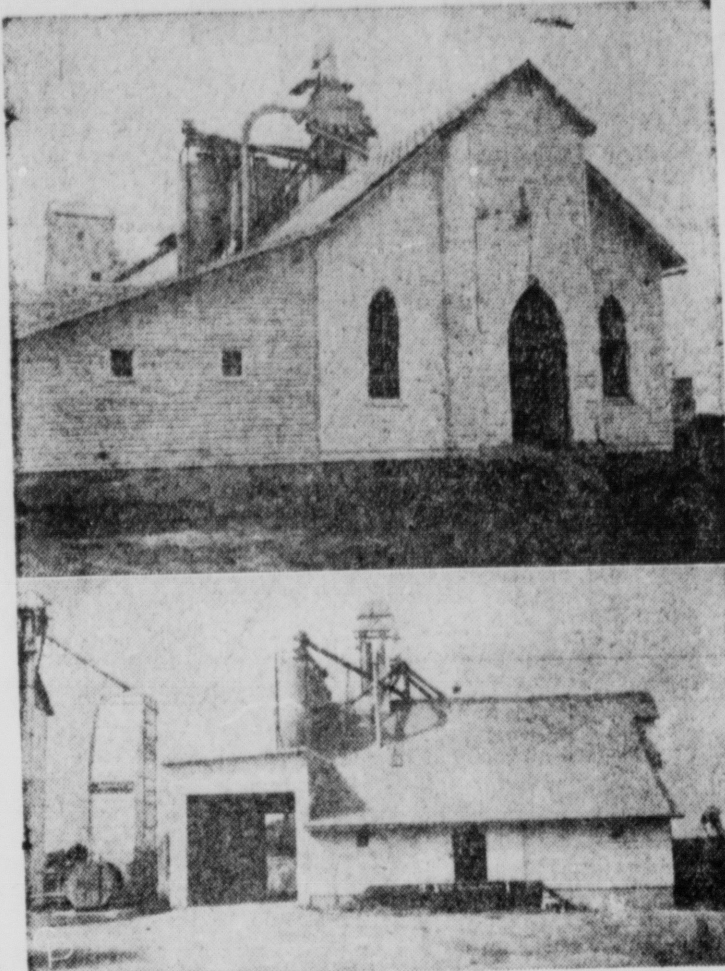

Ernest J. Bohn, Cleveland; Ronald Brown, Cleveland; W. B. Burr, Findlay; Vernon R. Burt, Lakewood; Mrs. Asa Butterfield, Cincinnati; Mrs. Richard Crouch, Dayton; Mrs. Charles B. Cushman Jr., Youngstown; Andrew G. Freeman, Columbus; James P. Griffin, Youngstown; Mrs. Carl G. Jackson, Columbus; Mrs. Fred Lazarus Jr., Cincinnati; Mrs. Kathleen Ly-saght Elyria; Mrs. Mary Moss, Columbus; Herman Roselott, Lynchburg, and Donald Zimmerman, New Philadelphia.

Several of them were on the former governor's commission for aging. Others were on advisory committees to the commission or to the White House conference.

Arraignment Due Friday In Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Arraignment is set Friday for seven persons — including four politically prominent — indicted by the Trumbull County grand jury in the alleged shakedown of contractors and others involved in city transactions.

All were named in secret indictments by the grand jury Monday on charges ranging from perjury to intimidation of grand jury witnesses. They have appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrel and are free under bond.

Two Niles men — James Soda and Paul Lamonge — turned themselves in Tuesday. Soda, 47, a contractor, was charged with influencing a witness and perjury, and Lamonge, 48, was charged with intimidating witnesses and extortion.

The other five, booked Monday, are:

Frank A. Cickelli, 51, county Democratic Party chairman and a $4,500 - a - year member of the county board of elections; city councilmen Raymond J. Little, 49, Jack G. Flak, 53, and John Janosik, 40; and James Matash, 50, a bondsman.

Governor Awaiting Report From Parole Panel on Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has announced the reprieve of a condemned slayer, the impending resignation of Ohio Penitentiary's warden, and the appointment of a new 15-member Ohio Commission on Aging.

Clarence V. Ferguson 19, of Cleveland, who was to have been electrocuted at Ohio Penitentiary Friday, got a 30-day reprieve to Nov. 3. The governor granted it, he said Tuesday, in the absence of a pardon and parole commission clemency report. The commission met before noon and reached a secret recommendation on clemency for Ferguson, but DiSalle said the report had not reached him by afternoon.

Beryl C. Sacks, the penitentiary warden, is resigning effective Nov. 1, the governor said in confirming earlier reports that Sacks planned to quit. DiSalle said Sacks gave health reasons for deciding to give up the $15,000-a-year post he took less than two years ago.

Ferguson was condemned to death and Louis (Slim) Thornton got a life sentence when a three-judge court tried them in the $5 robbery-slitting last March 4 of drug store operator Benjamin Kaufman, 62, in Cleveland.

Both Ferguson and Thornton are Negroes.

The new commission on aging will continue the work of the previous governor's commission established two years ago to prepare an Ohio report for the 1961 White House Conference on Aging. DiSalle noted that the White House conference recommended the state establish continuing commissions to survey and bring to public attention the problems of the increasing elderly population.

The commission members, civic leaders from government business, labor and charitable organizations, are:

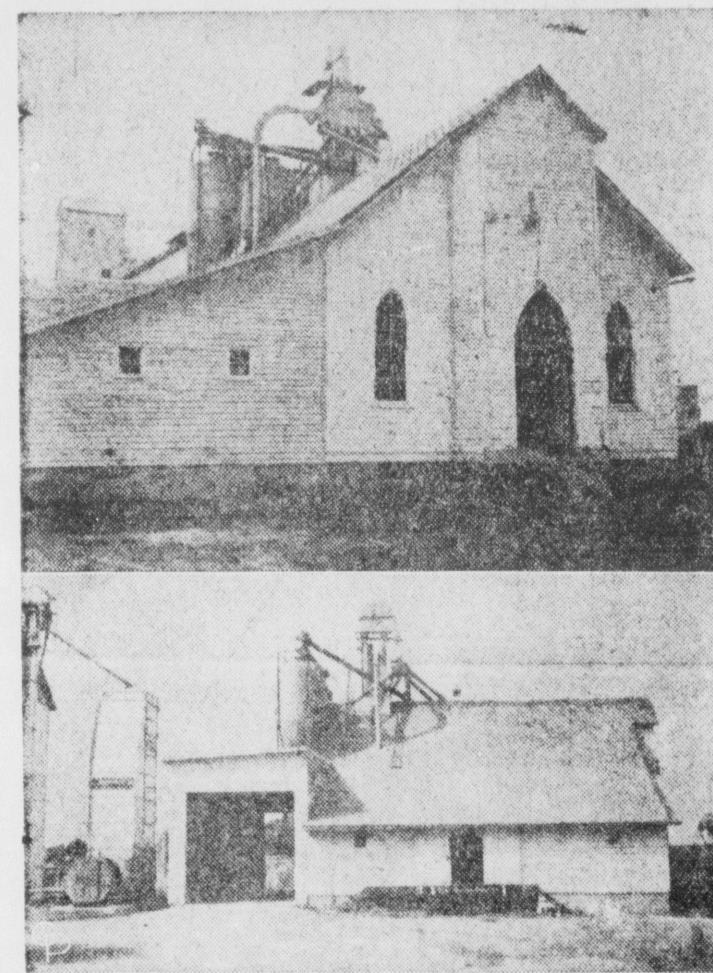

Ernest J. Bohn, Cleveland; Ronald Brown, Cleveland; W. B. Burr, Findlay; Vernon R. Burt, Lakewood; Mrs. Asa Butterfield, Cincinnati; Mrs. Richard Crouch, Dayton; Mrs. Charles B. Cushwa Jr., Youngstown; Andrew G. Freeman, Columbus; James P. Griffin, Youngstown; Mrs. Carl G. Jackson, Columbus; Mrs. Fred Lazarus Jr., Cincinnati; Mrs. Kathleen Ly-saght Elyria; Mrs. Mary Moss, Columbus; Herman Roselott, Lynchburg, and Donald Zimmerman, New Philadelphia.

Several of them were on the former governor's commission for aging. Others were on advisory committees to the commission or to the White House conference.

Tag Bargain

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) Police say it looks like Alabama at the gates of Langley Air Force Base. They estimate that 600 vehicles owned by military personnel carry Alabama license tags which cost less than a third the cost of Virginia tags. Unless a service man was stationed in Alabama before coming here, or is a legal resident there, he is required to purchase Virginia tags.

As midshipmen, 1,600 future Navy officers took part in summer training with units of the U. S. Pacific Fleet in 1961.

Arraignment Due Friday In Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Arraignment is set Friday for seven persons — including four politically prominent — indicted by the Trumbull County grand jury in the alleged shakedown of contractors and others involved in city transactions.

All were named in secret indictments by the grand jury Monday on charges ranging from perjury to intimidation of grand jury witnesses. They have appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrel and are free under bond.

Two Niles men — James Soda and Paul Lamonge — turned themselves in Tuesday. Soda, 47, a contractor, was charged with influencing a witness and perjury, and Lamonge, 48, was charged with intimidating witnesses and extortion.

The other five, booked Monday, are:

Frank A. Cickelli, 51, county Democratic Party chairman and a $4,500-a-year member of the county board of elections; city councilmen Raymond J. Little, 49, Jack G. Flak, 53, and John Janosik, 40; and James Matash, 50, a bondsman.

Council Passes, Suspends Reading, Holds Ordinances

City Council last night passed three ordinances, held one to a second reading, one to first reading and suspended the third reading of two more.

The suspensions were on ordinances calling for pay raises for city police and firemen. Second readings on both were presented at the Sept. 19 meeting. At that time Council decided to suspend third readings until the first of the year in view of a pinching financial situation.

An ordinance calling for installation of 14 street lights here was halted at second reading when a vote on suspension of rules failed. Again the questionable availability of funds prompted this move.

Held to first reading was an ordinance asking the transfer of 1,100 from the Ted Lewis Park Caretaker's fund to be used in aiding construction of a new shelterhouse at the park.

THE local Park Board, submitting the transfer ordinance, noted that the money would be used along with $1,000 already set up in a trust fund donated by Ted Lewis. Ludwig Haecker, speaking for the Park Board, said the money is needed to buy necessary material yet this year so planned construction may be initiated at an early date.

The proposed new park building will be located across the road from the present shelterhouse. Plans for the structure already have been drawn, free of charge, Haecker pointed out.

All three of the ordinances passed concerned the transfer of funds. Suspension of rules carried on each. They are:

Transfer of $707.73 from the Water Works operating fund to operating accounts of the Water Works system. Specified were $110 to office salaries, $236.25 to pumping station salaries, $11.48 to the land and buildings account and $350 to the meter maintenance account.

Transfer of $300 from the miscellaneous account of the street construction, maintenance and repair fund to the gasoline and oil account.

Transfer of $100 from the contingency fund of the general revenue fund to the city solicitor's account for the payment of briefs to be printed and filed with the Ohio Supreme Court in the case of George Bidinger vs the City of Circleville. Bidinger, involved with the city in a garbage collection suit, has appealed his case to the state judiciary.

Ohio Pacifist Delays Voyage To Red Port

TOKYO (AP)—Dr. Earle L. Reynolds, the U.S. pacifist, held up his anti-nuclear protest voyage to Siberia Tuesday to wait out a typhoon and to dicker for permission to enter a Soviet port.

Reynolds, an Ohio anthropology professor, cabled American friends now in Moscow on a San Francisco-to-Moscow peace march asking them to get Soviet clearance for his 30-ton yacht Phoenix to enter Nakhodka.

"We are hopeful of a reply soon," Reynolds' son, Ted, 22, said in a telephone conversation from the Japanese island of Tsushima, where the Phoenix is sitting out Typhoon Tilda.

"If the storm veers away from Tsushima and toward the Chinese mainland, we will resume our voyage Wednesday," Ted said.

Reynolds, his wife, his son, Ted, his daughter and an American student from San Francisco, Thomas Yoneda, sailed Saturday for Siberia as a protest against the resumption of Soviet nuclear testing.

The Japanese Coast Guard, however, relayed to them a message from the harbor master of Nakhodka saying they would be refused clearance into Siberia.

Robber Gets $1,729 In Holdup of Woman

CLEVELAND (AP)—A county-wide police alert was broadcast today for a man sought in the $1,729 robbery of a woman outside a bank in suburban Shaker Heights.

Police said a license number of a late-model car furnished by a witness may help in the capture of the gunman who Tuesday held up Mrs. Joseph A. LoVullo, 34, in a shopping center parking lot.

In 1776, a U. S. naval squadron under Admiral Ezekiel Hopkins captured Nassau, capital city of the British Bahamas. After one day they withdrew, taking the governor and attorney general as hostages.

DR. M. KIMBER MOULTON

Dr. Moulton Is Evangelist At Nazarene

Dr. M. Kimber Moulton, pastor and youth leader, will be the evangelist for a series of meetings at the Circleville Church of the Nazarene starting today and continuing through Oct. 15.

Dr. Moulton, a leader in the Church of the Nazarene for many years, is now devoting full time in the evangelistic field. In addition to successful pastorates in Vermont, Maine, Rhode Island, and Maryland, Dr. Moulton pastored First Church of the Nazarene in Los Angeles for 15 years. (1942-57). During that time he built an entirely new plant and extended the ministry of the church in many ways.

For 12 years Dr. Moulton was a member of the General NYPs Council, serving four years as representative from the Eastern Zone. In 1940 he was elected president of the General Nazarene Young Peoples Society and was re-elected in 1944. For eight years he was a member of the General Board of the Church of the Nazarene.

Born of missionary parents serving the church on the Island of Barbados, Dr. Moulton has consistently maintained a missionary and an evangelistic ministry in his pastorates. According to Church officials, his dynamic ministry, coupled with his devotion to Christ and the church, identifies him as an earnest and effective winner of souls.

Swede Disliked As Chief of Atomic Group

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Eleven African and Asian nations and the Communist bloc voiced strong opposition today to the Western-backed nomination of Dr. Sigvard Eklund, a Swedish scientist, as director-general of the International Atomic Energy Agency.

The group, headed by India and Yugoslavia, submitted a resolution calling on the Board of Governors to reconsider the nomination, made last June 22. The critics called for selection of a man acceptable to the West, the non-aligned and Communist nations.

Henry D. Smythe, the U.S. delegate, told the agency's general conference the United States vigorously supports Eklund's candidacy.

Vasily S. Emelyanov, the Soviet delegate, accused the West of trying to make the agency an instrument of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military interests.

The Mt. Washington Carriage Road, 100 years old this year, is the oldest toll road in the United States still in operation.

Dr. U. Pe. Kin of Burma said Eklund did not appear acceptable to the nonaligned countries "because his nomination has not been accepted by one of the major nuclear powers in particular and by a number of developing countries in general."

DE GAULLE—In spite of French President Charles de Gaulle's efforts at an accord in Algeria, lots of people there don't like him, this effigy in Algiers indicates. The letters "O.A.S." stand for "Activist Secret Army."

Authoritative Western sources, however, said they were confident Eklund can win a majority in the 76 member conference in a showdown vote later this week.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wilbur H. Ficken, 45, pleaded innocent Tuesday in Municipal Court to a forgery charge. Judge Hugh A. Corrigan raised his bond from $500 to $5,000 and continued the case to Oct. 26.

Police said Ficken admitted forging checks of Mrs. Howard E. Cregar of Rocky River while he was employed at the investment firm of Prescott & Co. Ficken estimated the shortage in her account was $50,000, police said. They said the shortage would be nearly $73,000.

IN SYRIAN COOP—Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid El-Serraj (above), onetime right-hand man to U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, is reported under arrest for "subversion" in newly separated Syria. He resigned as U.A.R. vice president two days before the coup, and returned from Cairo.

Swede Disliked As Chief of Atomic Group

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Eleven African and Asian nations and the Communist bloc voiced strong opposition today to the Western-backed nomination of Dr. Sigvard Eklund, a Swedish scientist, as director-general of the International Atomic Energy Agency.

The group, headed by India and Yugoslavia, submitted a resolution calling on the Board of Governors to reconsider the nomination, made last June 22. The critics called for selection of a man acceptable to the West, the non-aligned and Communist nations.

Henry D. Smythe, the U.S. delegate, told the agency's general conference the United States vigorously supports Eklund's candidacy.

Vasily S. Emelyanov, the Soviet delegate, accused the West of trying to make the agency an instrument of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military interests.

DE GAULLE—In spite of French President Charles de Gaulle's efforts at an accord in Algeria, lots of people there don't like him, this effigy in Algiers indicates. The letters "O.A.S." stand for "Activist Secret Army."

Eklund did not appear acceptable to the nonaligned countries "because his nomination has not been accepted by one of the major nuclear powers in particular and by a number of developing countries in general."

Authoritative Western sources, however, said they were confident Eklund can win a majority in the 76 member conference in a show-down vote later this week.

New Public Defender Named in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gerald S. Gold, 30, is Cleveland's new public defender for the Legal Aid Society, succeeding Merle M. McCurdy, who will be sworn in Friday as U.S. attorney.

Gold had been McCurdy's chief assistant since the office was founded in March, 1960. Gold has experience in private practice of criminal law, teaches at Western Reserve University Law-Medicine Center and instructs policemen from Cuyahoga, Lorain and Lake counties in criminal law.

Investment Firm Aide Denies Forgery Charge

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wilbur H. Ficken, 45, pleaded innocent Tuesday in Municipal Court to a forgery charge. Judge Hugh A. Corrigan raised his bond from $500 to $5,000 and continued the case to Oct. 26.

Police said Ficken admitted forging checks of Mrs. Howard E. Cregar of Rocky River while he was employed at the investment firm of Prescott & Co. Ficken estimated the shortage in her account was $50,000, police said. They said the shortage would be nearly $75,000.

Commerce Chief Cites Flaws In Depressed Area Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said Tuesday he wished a lot of officially designated depressed areas would pull out of the federal aid program and conduct their own economic development projects.

Hodges who argued strongly for federal aid to hard-hit sections earlier in the year, was surprisingly vehement in telling a news conference that the program has its shortcomings. His remarks were the more surprising because his department designates the areas and administers the program.

"I think psychologically it's bad to be called a depressed area," Hodges said.

The secretary said that if he were chairman of a county commission he would urge withdrawal from the federal program and recommend that the local people do the job on their own.

He said the country would be better off if a lot of the designated areas took this attitude.

Asked if an area would be authorized to pull out of the program Hodges said, "I think they could pull out. I wish a lot of them would pull out."

Some designated counties have objected to their classification as economically lagging areas. Hodges said these mainly have been rural counties placed on the list because of low farm income.

The Commerce Department's Area Redevelopment Administration channels loans and grants to depressed sections. Only two transactions have been approved to date one to Gassville, Ark., and the other to Cambridge, Md. These communities received a total of $373,300 in loans and grants.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Heavy fog reduced visibility to near zero early today in the Central and Southeastern Ohio counties. Skies were cloudy in the northeast and no fog formed.

Some temperatures early today were 37 at Zanesville, 38 at Columbus, Findlay and Toledo, 44 at Marietta and 47 at Cleveland.

High pressure will bring clear skies to the state today through Thursday. It will be clear and cool tonight, with chance of light frost in the east central counties.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average three to five degrees below normal. Normal high 67-68, normal low 46-50. A low warming trend until about normal about first of week. Little or no precipitation.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average four to eight degrees below normal. Normal high 71, normal low 47. A slow warming trend beginning Thursday, turning cool again about Saturday or Sunday. Little or no precipitation, except light, scattered showers north of the Ohio River late Friday or Saturday.

India's U.N. Ambassador Is Slated for Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—V. K. Krishna Menon, chief of India's delegation to the United Nations, is expected to undergo brain surgery Saturday to remove a blood clot, according to a New York brain surgeon.

The surgeon said Menon had been injured in a fall in his India residence a month ago. He said the operation would be "relatively minor and should keep Menon hospitalized for about 10 days."

Homecoming Queen Is Killed by Fumes

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Rock Island High School's homecoming Friday will be queenless.

The girl chosen to reign over the celebration, Cathleen Andrews, 17, was found dead of carbon monoxide fumes at her home Monday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Andrews, also were overcome and are in critical condition.

Her bedroom is directly over a furnace from which the coroner said fumes leaked.

Pupils at the high school voted to carry on the homecoming, but without a queen.

Akron Bail Bondsman Faces Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The insurance department wants to question a veteran Akron bail bondsman about his license at another hearing here next Friday.

Under subpoena for testimony is Liborio Percoco whose license as an agent of Allegheny Mutual Casualty Co., Meadville, Pa., entitles him to write bonds up to $10,000 each.

Robert Mullins, acting insurance superintendent said records showed that Percoco, widely known in Akron as "Whiskey Dick," served a federal sentence for bootlegging but denied on his license application ever having been convicted of a felony.

The insurance chief said Percoco also was on record as admitting cheating on a state insurance examination after first denying it under oath at a hearing.

Mullins recently became acting insurance chief when Insurance Supt. Edward A. Stowell took over as executive assistant to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Mullins formerly was Stowell's deputy.

Mullins said he was unaware that Percoco had denied conviction of any crime other than a traffic violation, on his license application. He said the record showed that Percoco served nine months of a 22-month term in Lewisburg, Pa., Penitentiary leaving prison in 1953.

Yet, Mullins said, Percoco answered "no" on license applications last June and in 1960 to questions about any convictions. Percoco gave the same negative answer in 1940, Mullins added.

Indians Are No Longer Labeled Vanishing Americans

By GUS UTTER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

CLEVELAND — If the shades of Custer, Sheridan, Kearney and over hell-for-leather Indian fighters of the Old West are keeping posted on current events they may be experiencing a high degree of frustration.

For one thing, the Vanishing American has stubbornly refused to vanish. Today's Indian population, reckoned down to quarter-breeds, is around 520,000, or more than double the census figure of 243,000 for 1887, which was nine years after Gen. George Armstrong Custer's stand on the Little Big Horn.

For another, Uncle Sam is working as diligently today trying to keep Indians off their reservations as the 19th century cavalrymen labored to keep them on.

Since 1951 the federal government has helped 31,250 Indians to relocate, mostly to urban centers, bringing the off-reservation total to 160,000. A total of 360,000 still remains on reservation tribal rolls.

The U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs now has relocation field offices in Cleveland, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Denver, Salt Lake City, Dallas and elsewhere. All are keyed to the availability of job opportunities because the Bureau's program, now in its tenth year, has for a principal purpose the betterment of the Indians' economic situation.

Hence Cleveland is a relocation center, although it is far from the lands of the Sioux, Navajos, Chippewas, Creeks, Choctaws, the Thlingits of the Pacific Northwest, and Alaska Eskimo tribesmen it serves.

Reservation Indians, except those in the relatively few tribes which have hit jackpots in oil or various other mineral rights and irrigation land rentals, are mainly restricted in income to that derived from labor of the pick-and-shovel variety or from farming. These are occupations for which the Indian is generally unsuited for reasons of cultural background and inclination.

Today's Indian of employable age is likely to feel a yearning to get into gear with a social order which offers good wages, washing machines, television and compact cars among its accoutrements.

Younger Indians are 100 per cent literate, many are high school graduates and all are citizens as established by an act of Congress in 1924 which entitles them to vote, pay taxes and share other prerogatives and responsibilities of citizenship.

To help make the Indian of either sex more employable, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has approved approximately 160 schools in 19 states.

In these schools, at government expense, Charley Shot-With-Two-Arrows, the Navajo; Francis Dwarf the Sioux, or Mary Bird, Oneida Indian maiden from Minnesota, may learn to become an accountant, automobile mechanic, beauty operator, baker, barber, stenographer, welder, X-ray technician or any one of more than a score of other vocations.

In Cleveland, today nearly 100 Indian students are in training. Upon completion of a course the relocatee is given assistance in getting a job and the Bureau office here has a record of placements in drafting, in garment manufacture, in automobile manufacture and elsewhere in industry. Two bus drivers for the municipal transit system are Indians.

The decision to relocate is optional.

Moon Surface May Be Made Up of Sand

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What the surface of the moon is made of, speedy flashes from your nerves and the importance of children's stories are subjects for science at work: The Lunar Beach.

The moon may be covered by a very thin layer of something like sand, say radio astronomers from the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory.

In fact radio signals picked up from the moon indicate the satellite has several distinct layers of different materials.

The first sand-like layer may be only about a fifth of an inch deep, on the average. Below this may be an inch or so of another material which has high electrical conductivity. Beneath this there is apparently an indefinitely deep layer of rock or rock-like material.

Your nerves shoot electrical signals through your body at speeds up to 200 miles a second.

Yet nerve fiber itself is 100 million times more resistant to electricity than similar copper wire. And the insulation around nerve fibers is a million times leakier than the sheathing of electrical cable, says Bernard Katz, London biophysicist in "Scientific American."

In spite of all this, the body's nerve communications work with remarkable efficiency. While each nerve fiber can report only a simple electrical code, there are a great many of these channels to carry messages to the brain. In the trunk of the optic nerve from the eye, for example, more than a million channels carry sight sensations to the brain.

Tell Me a Story

A simple bedtime-type story can influence a child's behavior say University of Michigan psychologists.

When they told aggressive four- and five-year olds about a lonely little dog and his search for friends, they found that the story and the loneliness it communicated apparently lowered or controlled the aggressive behavior. The story appeared to have aroused the affiliation needs of the children.

Prof. Jesse E. Gordon said he hopes to study violence, sex, religion and other story themes on radio and television and their effects.

Cuyahoga Idle Pay Hits $83 Million

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County claimants received 19 per cent, or $83,661,000, of the $442,972,052 paid out of the state jobless compensation fund from July 1, 1959, to July 1, 1961, reports Ward A. Riley, area director of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Riley said Monday that because of a low balance in the fund — $178,632,789 on July 1—20,000 employers in Cuyahoga County will be assessed $5 more per $1,000 on the annual taxable payroll, pursuant to state law, effective Jan. 1. Minimum payments, now $1 on $1,000 of payroll, automatically will be at the rate of $6, while those employers now paying $27 annually per $1,000 will be paying $32. Those are the extremes, on a graduated scale. Employers of three or more pay into the fund.

Q. Are "kissing bugs" poisonous?

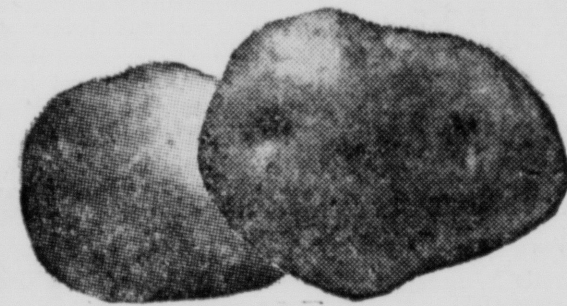

A. The "kissing bug," variously referred to as "blood-suckers," "chunche del monte," "wild bed-bug," and "Mexican bedbug," are not poisonous. However, the insect acts as a carrier of germs (trypanosomes) which cause a serious condition called "Chaga's disease" for which there is no known specific cure. The insects live on the blood of animals. They will also infest houses when the animals live nearby and are especially pesky for the human occupants when the animals are driven away and the hungry insects are left behind. They feed at night and scurry into cracks and crevices when the light is turned on. For this reason they are difficult to kill with ordinary insect sprays and powders.

Indians Are No Longer Labeled Vanishing Americans

CLEVELAND — If the shades of Custer, Sheridan, Kearney and over hell-for-leather Indian fighters of the Old West are keeping posted on current events they may be experiencing a high degree of frustration.

Q. Does bubonic plague ever occur in this country?

A. There have been about 500 cases since 1900, with mild outbreaks occurring in 1919 and 1924. Bubonic plague (the Black Death) shares honors with few other scourges of mankind. It swept Europe and Asia in ancient times and the great epidemic of the 14th century brought death to more than 25 million people. Plague is spread by fleas which infest rats and may be transmitted from person to person. Today, protective immunization against plague is fairly effective. Persons who contract the disease can be successfully treated with antibiotics and sulfa drugs. This is a far cry from the situation in 1348 as described by a physician of the time. "No one could approach or even see a patient without taking the disease. The father did not visit the son nor the son the father. Charity was dead and hope abandoned."

Q. Would it be possible to protect a child from polio by giving polio vaccine to the mother during pregnancy?

A. Yes. However, the protection afforded the child lasts for something less than a year, so if continued protection is desired it is necessary to give the baby polio vaccine starting at about 9 months of age.

Yankees Hold Favorite Role To Win Series

Mantle's Physical Condition Looms as Big Question Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite Mickey Mantle's physical condition, the New York Yankees rule as favorites to defeat the Cincinnati Reds in the World Series.

With, or without Mantle—recovering from surgery on an abscess on his right hip—the Yankees rule a 12-5 choice over the National League champion Reds, who have quiet confidence they can repeat the Pittsburgh Pirates' 1960 series upset of the favored Yankees in seven games.

The Reds have been in the big town two days, but most of the news has been about Roger (61-homer) Maris, the lame Mantle and Casey Stengel ex-Yankee manager who now bosses the new New York Mets. The Gotham attitude is that the Reds are in on a pass.

That's the way Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson and his collection of admitted "rejects" like it. The Reds opened the season as 60-1 National League pennant possibilities. They copied the flag by winning while everybody else wondered how they could do it—without a bang-up catcher or the hallowed formula of strength through the middle, except Vada Pinson in center.

While Hook went to great lengths to inform sports writers how the Yankees scrutinized scouting reports on the Reds, Hutchinson simply said, "We went over the Yankee lineup, it was just a routine thing you do for a World Series—we know the job we have to do and we'll try to do it."

A great deal of confusion existed over the condition of Mantle, who said he felt improved but was uncertain he could play.

Hook listed two starting lineups — one with Mantle, who slammed 54 homers batting cleanup behind Maris, and the other without Mantle, installing catcher Elston Howard as cleanup man, shifting Maris from right to Mantle's center field spot and placing Hector Lopez in right.

Hutchinson said he would await game time to decide whether Darrell Johnson, who hurt his side in batting practice last Friday, would be his starting catcher. Johnson said he was ready to play. If he can't, Jerry Zimmerman will catch.

Cincinnati's hopes admittedly rest in Frank Robinson, a .323 hitter with 37 home runs, and the fleet Pinson, who has a .343 batting mark and was a key man in the Reds' late pennant drive.

Stiff Workout Given Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes ran his Ohio State Buckeyes through what he called one of the hardest Tuesday practice sessions he has ever put a team through Tuesday, but when it was all over Hayes seemed satisfied.

Emphasis during the grind was on offense. The Bucks got only one touchdown in their opening tie with Texas Christian.

Only offensive guard Rod Foster, suffering from a sore hip which he injured during last Saturday's game, was absent from the session. Halfback Bob Klein, however, is still somewhat hobbled by a sprained ankle which kept him out of the TCU game. Hayes hopes he will be ready for the UCLA contest here this week, but, if not, sophomore Matt Snell, who filled in for him last week, will be at the right half post.

Patterson Bout Due in Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight championship against Tom McNeely here on Dec. 4 — all because they couldn't agree on a referee in Boston.

Originally, the bout was set for Boston on Nov. 13, but was called off because the Massachusetts Boxing Commission refused to go along with Patterson's request for an out-of-state referee.

Patterson apparently felt that McNeely, who comes from Boston, might have an advantage with a local referee.

Maris Decries Underrating Reds

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris doesn't underrate the Cincinnati Reds.

The major league home run champ naturally favors his own New York Yankees to defeat the Reds in the World Series, but he doesn't believe it will be easy.

"I just can't understand why they are downgrading the Cincinnati club," Maris said. "They've got a good club. Heck, they must be a good team. They beat some clubs that were rated pretty high early in the season."

"The only ones who are downgrading the Reds are the teams which lost to them. It sounds like sour grapes to me."

Ashville Faces Loop Opponent Minus Starters

Cedarville Holds Clean Slate for Friday Night Tilt

Ashville's football Broncos will be limping when they go into action against undefeated Darby Valley League opponent Cedarville at 8 p. m. Friday on the Fairgrounds field here.

Out of the Ashville lineup definitely for this tilt and possibly longer will be first string left tackle Jerry Smith and left guard Ron Will, both injured in last Friday's 44-0 trouncing at the hands of Madison South.

Also on the questionable list for playing availability are right tackle Ralph Swank and fullback Dan Hollenback, the Broncos' leading ground-gainer, hurt in the same game.

To add to coach Russ Gregg and Ray Bethel's woes was an incident of breaking training rules resulting in three players being dropped from the varsity squad permanently.

BUT ALL is not gloom in the AHS encampment. Encouraging signs of a revived passing attack sparked by outstanding freshmen quarterback David Reese and the effectiveness in practice of a new man - in - motion ground offensive have buoyed the Bronco spirits.

And high spirits plus unusually good play will be needed to stay even with powerful Cedarville. The DVL leaders hold an overall 4-0 slate with loop victories over The Plains, 8-0, and Greenview, 26-6.

The visitors will bring a strong outside running team with dazzling speed to the local gridiron. Early scouting reports for Ashville have indicated Cedarville's height, which served them well in basketball competition, also is proving a valuable asset in the drive toward the DVL football pennant.

Passing over the heads of opposition defenders has helped Cedarville when a ground assault was stalled. The invaders favor numerous pitchouts and are tagged "the best team we've faced yet" by mentor Gregg of Ashville.

Ashville is expected to go to the air a great deal more than in previous tilts, since injuries have set up a situation where the team's heaviest man is only 145 pounds.

Schafrath Gets OK To Play with Pros

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns can thank the commanding officer of offensive tackle Dick Schafrath's Air National Guard unit at Mansfield for one of the club's biggest breaks so far this year.

A Browns' spokesman said Tuesday the 255-pound Schafrath had received permission from his C.O. to play and practice with the Browns, provided football does not interfere with his Air Force training duties. He said Schafrath has permission to play against the Washington Redskins Sunday.

Former U. S. Open golf champion Dick Maye says "Doug Sanders hits the ball with nervous energy, but the ball usually goes straight."

New NL Clubs To Get Batch Of Ex-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets and Houston Colts, the two new National League baseball clubs, will be able to form their teams from a list that includes former league stars Robin Roberts, Gil Hodges, Red Schoendienst, Sam Jones, Richie Ashburn and Johnny Antonelli. The Associated Press has learned.

The selections from the lists of 15 players made available by each of the eight established clubs will be made by Houston and New York the day after the World Series ends.

Although the lists are in the hands of officials of the Mets and Colts, they will not be officially disclosed by the league.

The AP has learned, however, that Roberts, Hodges, Schoendienst, Jones, Ashburn and Antonelli are on the lists together with such other name players as Clem Labine, Johnny Logan, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Bobby Shantz of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Billy Loes and Eddie Bressoud of the San Francisco Giants; Norm Larker and Roger Craig of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Pancho Herrera of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cincinnati's current list, the AP learned, contains only the names of those not eligible for the World Series. It is reported that Gus Bell, Dick Gernert and Jay Hook may be among those made available once the series ends.

6 Touchdowns Tag Texan as Back of Week

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — Modest little Pete Pedro said Wednesday "if I am back of the week it's because of my teammates."

Pedro, the 5-foot-7, 160-pound Puerto Rican who created a sensation when he scored six touchdowns in sparking West Texas State to a 56-27 victory over Texas Western was picked for the honor by The Associated Press.

His coach, Joe Kerbel, said the youngster was "overcome with the thrill of the thing."

"He told me that he had great blocking and that was the reason he was able to get the honor," Kerbel declared. "He was quite correct but he also did a great deal of himself. He is the greatest running back I've ever seen in football."

The youngster is only a sophomore. He came to West Texas State as a transfer from Trinidad, Colo., Junior College. His home is in Lynn, Mass.

West Texas State had won only five games in three years, three of them last season — Kerbel's first as coach. "We already have sellout crowds assured," said Kerbel.

Pedro was chosen over such standout stars as Stan Gann of Georgia Tech, Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian, Rod Sears of Stanford, Willie Brown of Southern California, Doug Elmore of Mississippi, Bill Swingle of Northwestern, Angelo Dabiero of Notre Dame, Dave Sarette of Syracuse and others who stood out with their play last weekend.

AP Guesspert Picks Iowa To Win Again

Ole Miss, Ohio State Also Given Nod for Victories Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—There will be a full schedule of college football games this weekend despite the World Series. If you get too excited about the baseball, don't worry. Here are your football winners!!!

(Last week, 32 right, 15 wrong for .681. Season's average .748) Iowa over Southern California: This will occupy your TV screen after the Series game. Larry Ferguson, Hawkeye speedster, is injured but the Iowans still have too much for the once mighty Trojans.

Mississippi over Florida State: The Mississippians, like the river, just keep rolling along.

Georgia Tech over Louisiana State: a night contest. But the darkness won't hide Stan Gann's cleverness at quarterback for the Engineers.

Texas over Washington State: With ease.

Michigan State over Stanford: Stanford will furnish most of the excitement, but Michigan State provides the heavyweight tackles who will control the scoring.

Syracuse over Maryland: The Orangemen from New York could be in trouble if Ernie Davis hasn't completely recovered from his hurts.

Ohio State over UCLA: The Buckeyes' stingy defense will decide this struggle between the leaders of two powerful conferences.

Michigan over Army: The Cadets have given up their lonely offense. They'll also give up the decision in this one.

Elsewhere: Purdue over Notre Dame; Kansas over Colorado; Missouri over California; Texas Christian over Arkansas;

Kansas over Colorado, Northwestern over Illinois, Wisconsin over Indiana, Nebraska over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Xavier, Minnesota over Oregon, Oklahoma State over Tulsa, Oklahoma over Iowa State.

Cincinnati Tempers Final Redleg Rally

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Queen City held a pep rally Tuesday night as a final World Series send-off for its National League champion Reds, but it was not much like the wild celebration Cincinnatians put on when the team clinched the pennant last week.

The "Reds Si, Yankees No" signs were in evidence, and there was drinking in the streets. There was milling around and shoving, and climbing of lamp posts and one fan put detergent in the Tyler-Davidson Fountain to make the suds flow.

But the crowd was not quite enough to make shoving necessary. And, while the pennant night crowd had been of all ages, teenagers and college students predominated at the rally wishing the Reds off to a good start in the World Series starting today in New York.

Pro scouts at the Chicago College All-Star game last August believe that Ernie Davis of Syracuse and Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State will be one-two on several pro drafts lists following this winter.

'Butterflies' Plague Reds' Opening Hurler

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim O'Toole, 24-year-old son of a Chicago policeman, had the most important assignment of his career today, and he admitted he had "butterflies."

Currently the hottest pitcher on either team, O'Toole was Manager Fred Hutchinson's choice as opening-day pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds against the New York Yankees.

"I'll feel the butterflies, all right," conceded O'Toole, a 190-pound, 6-footer. "But I always feel them in any game until I get a batter or two out. Then they go away."

O'Toole is the youngest of Hutchinson's big three and the least experienced.

But he had a winning streak of eight games at the end of the season and did not allow a single home run in 101 innings of his last 16 games. That's what Hutchinson needs against the Yankee long-ball hitters.

"He was our best pitcher during the last three weeks of the season when we needed good pitching," said Hutchinson, "so he's the obvious choice. This way I plan on starting him three times."

In 1959, Doug Sanders won more than $25,000 playing in 30 PGA golf tournaments. He tied for second in the PGA championship that year.

Yankees Hold Favorite Role To Win Series

Mantle's Physical Condition Looms as Big Question Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite Mickey Mantle's physical condition, the New York Yankees rule as favorites to defeat the Cincinnati Reds in the World Series.

With, or without Mantle—recovering from surgery on an abscess on his right hip—the Yankees rule a 12-5 choice over the National League champion Reds, who have quiet confidence they can repeat the Pittsburgh Pirates' 1960 series upset of the favored Yankees in seven games.

The Reds have been in the big town two days, but most of the news has been about Roger (Goliath) Maris, the lame Mantle and Casey Stengel ex-Yankee manager who now bosses the new New York Mets. The Gotham attitude is that the Reds are in on a pass.

That's the way Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson and his collection of admitted "rejects" like it. The Reds opened the season as 60-1 National League pennant possibilities. They copied the flag by winning while everybody else wondered how they could do it—without a bangup catcher or the hallowed formula of strength through the middle, except Vada Pinson in center.

While Houk went to great lengths to inform sports writers how the Yankees scrutinized scouting reports on the Reds, Hutchinson simply said, "We went over the Yankee lineup, it was just a routine thing you do for a World Series—we know the job we have to do and we'll try to do it."

A great deal of confusion existed over the condition of Mantle, who said he felt improved but was uncertain he could play.

Houk listed two starting lineups — one with Mantle, who slammed 54 homers batting clean-up behind Maris, and the other without Mantle, installing catcher Elston Howard as cleanup man, shifting Maris from right to Mantle's center field spot and placing Hector Lopez in right.

Hutchinson said he would wait game time to decide whether Darrell Johnson, who hurt his side in batting practice last Friday, would be his starting catcher. Johnson said he was ready to play. If he can't, Jerry Zimmerman will catch.

Cincinnati's hopes admittedly rest in Frank Robinson, a 323 hitter with 37 home runs, and the fleet Pinson, who has a .343 batting mark and was a key man in the Reds' late pennant drive.

Stiff Workout Given Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes ran his Ohio State Buckeyes through what he called one of the hardest Tuesday practice sessions he has ever put a team through Tuesday, but when it was all over Hayes seemed satisfied.

Emphasis during the grind was on offense. The Bucks got only one touchdown in their opening tie with Texas Christian.

Only offensive guard Rod Foster, suffering from a sore hip which he injured during last Saturday's game, was absent from the session. Halfback Bob Klein, however, is still somewhat hobbled by a sprained ankle which kept him out of the TCU game. Hayes hopes he will be ready for the UCLA contest here this week, but, if not, sophomore Matt Snell, who filled in for him last week, will be at the right half post.

Scoring twice in the first half, Circleville's junior high Tiny Tiger gridgers outlasted a possession game which gave Washington C. H. control of the ball for all but a few seconds of the second half to drop the Blue Lion juniors 12-0 here yesterday.

Patterson Bout Due in Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight championship against Tom McNeely here on Dec. 4 — all because they couldn't agree on a referee in Boston.

Originally, the bout was set for Boston on Nov. 13, but was called off because the Massachusetts Boxing Commission refused to go along with Patterson's request for an out-of-state referee.

Patterson apparently felt that McNeely, who comes from Boston, might have an advantage with a local referee.

Promoter Tom Bolan made the announcement Tuesday that the Patterson-McNeely bout would be held here in the 15,000-seat Maple Leaf Gardens.

Maris Decries Underrating Reds

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris doesn't underrate the Cincinnati Reds.

The major league home run champ naturally favors his own New York Yankees to defeat the Reds in the World Series, but he doesn't believe it will be easy.

"I just can't understand why they are downgrading the Cincinnati club," Maris said. "They've got a good club. Heck, they must be a good team. They beat some clubs that were rated pretty high early in the season."

"The only ones who are downgrading the Reds are the teams which lost to them. It sounds like sour grapes to me."

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

It won't be long now until this will be a familiar scene to be enjoyed by Ohio's winter sports fans.

The hardy ones, young and old, flock by the hundreds to Punderson Lake State Park near Burton when the coasting and ski slopes are covered by snow.

This is one of the most popular year-round State Parks operated by the State of Ohio. A five-hundred acre tract of parkland, including a one-hundred acre lake where all summer long fishermen spend happy hours in rental boats, Punderson Lake State Park has a beautiful manor house that offers good food and lodging for vacationers.

Since 1948 this has been a State-owned park. Along with Lake Hope State Park near Zaleski, Hueston's Woods State Park near Oxford and the Muskingum Lakes, Punderson ranks high in popularity in all seasons of the year with Ohio outdoor recreation seekers. Winter sports also draw large crowds to Virginia Kendall Park near Akron.

And There Were Gabe Paul, Tebbetts Outside Looking In

NEW YORK (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts was sitting on a stairway talking with Johnny Keane. About 10 yards away stood Gabe Paul chatting with friends.

It was the night before the scheduled start of the 1961 World Series between the Cincinnati Reds and the New York Yankees. They were on the outside, looking in. They were the forgotten men.

Tebbetts and Paul had a lot to do with putting together the Reds team that is heading into the World Series.

Tebbetts, who quit as Reds' manager near the end of the 1958 season now is manager at Milwaukee. Paul quit as general manager after the 1960 season to go to the new Houston club and then switched to Cleveland of the American League.

Trades engineered by new general manager, Bill DeWitt, which brought second baseman Don Blasingame and pitcher Joey Jay to the Reds, had a lot to do with Cincinnati success this year. But it was a cinch Paul and Tebbetts also were thinking about O'Toole, Ilook, Maloney, Bell, Post, Purkey, Pinson, Robinson, Brosnan and Henry—players either traded for or signed during their regimes.

"It's good to be here," said Paul.

Tebbetts, a one-time major league catcher, was questioned particularly about the Reds' catching.

All season the experts have been saying no team could win a pennant with only rookie catchers. After Ed Bailey was traded away to San Francisco in the deal which plugged a second base hole with Blasingame the Reds were left with only rookies Jerry Zimmerman and Johnny Edwards. That existed until Darrell Johnson, a Yankee castoff who had been a coach with the St. Louis Cardinals, was signed.

"It still left the Reds with what most baseball people insist is a definite weakness."

That drew a dissent from Tebbetts.

"A weakness will not show up in a single series," he said.

Asked about his impressions of Edwards and Zimmerman, Tebbetts said:

"They called the pitches and they called them into the World Series." It seemed as simple as that.

Views on TV-Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—A troika of new programs made their first appearances on network television Tuesday night. One was promising one, reminiscent, and the third, an oft-told tale.

The promising one was CBS' "The Dick Van Dyke Show." It is a situation comedy of the classic television mold: the young couple consisting of the mother-knows-best wife and the husband who is just an overgrown little boy.

But it was dreamed up by Carl Reiner, a good comedian turned writer, and the boyish husband is played by a talented rubber-faced, rubber-boned comedian named Dick Van Dyke, so it looks as if there's a new TV family around for the audience to clasp warmly to its collective bosom.

If you close your eyes during ABC's animated cartoon "Calvin and the Colonel," visions of the old Amos 'n Andy show will dance in your head—and with good reason. Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, who were Amos 'n Andy, play the Colonel, a fox who tries hard to be wily, and Calvin, a bumbling, strong-backed bear.

Although this is alleged to be one of the cartoon shows for adults, it would fit better into the late afternoon children's hour of TV. Incidentally, the animation is crude compared with the slick jobs being turned out by Walt Disney and the Hanna-Barbera studios.

ABC's "The New Breed" is another hour-long police action story. Its gimmick is the glorification of career cops with college degrees. In this case the policemen—all attractive young men—are members of the Los Angeles police metropolitan squad which tackles special and difficult problems.

Tuesday night's special problem was a mentally deranged veteran who had lost his daughter through illness. He develops an insane dislike for a doctor he believes responsible for her death, and in revenge, kidnaps the physician's little daughter. He plans to kill her along with himself by exploding a grenade in a children's hospital.

There is the usual hunt, the closing in and, of course, the last-minute rescue. I've seen this with slight variations a number of times lately but usually in the 30-minute version. The only way the "New Breed" cops seemed different from the old breed was that they agreed not to give the kidnap story to the newspapers.

Yogi Berra's Series Views

By YOGI BERRA

Written for The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP)—For the last few years fellas keep asking me what World Series record gives me the biggest thrill. I really couldn't answer that one. I get a thrill every time I put on a Yankee uniform.

I'm 37 now and I guess Lou Gehrig said it best when he said "I'm lucky to be a Yankee."

The World Series scheduled to start today against Cincinnati is my 12th. It used to be that I looked forward to the winner's share. But as you get older your sense of values change and you realize money isn't everything.

I see where I've earned $71,841 extra for playing in 68 World Series games. You know I never added it up.

To me it's more important to be playing. I have no idea what I'd like to do when I'm finished playing. I don't even think about retiring. I just want to play from year to year.

This series means a lot to me because this will be the first time I've started in one as an outfielder. Oh, I played some outfield last year and in 1947 when I was a rookie of 22 and the Dodgers ran wild on the bases in my catcher.

In the third game I pinch hit for Sherman Lollar and became the first player to hit a pinch home run in a World Series.

But I don't like to look back and maybe when I get older those dozen records I hold will mean much more. It's still nice to have fellas come up to you and remind you of them.

Area Chamber Board Endorses School Operating Levy Here

Endorsement of the school operating levy which will be placed on the Nov. 7 ballot was one of several actions taken during yesterday's monthly meeting of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

The Board expressed thanks to six local firms for sending voluntary contributions to the "Pittsburgh Plate Glass Road Fund". Cited were the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., the Pickaway Arms Restaurant, the G.C. Murphy Co., the Third National Bank, the Ed Wallace Realty Co., and the J. Boyd Stout Construction Co.

Other business included the listing of 14 candidates for the general membership vote on new directors. Seven will be elected for a two-year period. Voting will be conducted by mail.

Membership honors for the month went to three professional men. Welcomed as first time members were Dr. H. W. Fraas, Dr. J. M. Hedges and Dr. F. M. Anderson.

THE BOARD agreed to make its usual contribution of $100 to the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce as an aid to the annual Jaycees Halloween Parade here. Charles Schiever and E. G. Parsons were named delegates to the annual business meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, scheduled Nov. 2 in Columbus. Victor Riesel will be the featured speaker at the luncheon.

It was announced that the 1961 Central States Exhibit of Business Opportunities is scheduled Oct. 24, 25 and 26 at the State Fairgrounds in Columbus. The purpose is to bring more defense production into the states in this area.

Girl Returns To Japan To Await Death

TOKYO (AP) — Mira Frances Oensel, 10, returned today to Japan—"the land she loved so much"—to die.

A big U.S. Air Force jet tanker, converted into a mercy plane, flew her across the Pacific to her grieving father, Frank M. Oensel, 72, a businessman and retired U.S. Army officer.

Mira, once so bright and active, neither saw nor heard him. She has been unconscious since a brain tumor operation in August, Ga., in September 1960.

Beside her on the long voyage from Georgia, across Alaska and the Pacific, was her Japanese mother, Takako.

The Oensels were visiting in Georgia when the child, who had shown no previous symptoms of the disease, fainted. Oensel had to return to Tokyo to his job as adviser to the Japan Steel Works Co. last April.

From the airport, an ambulance took her to a civilian hospital in Tokyo.

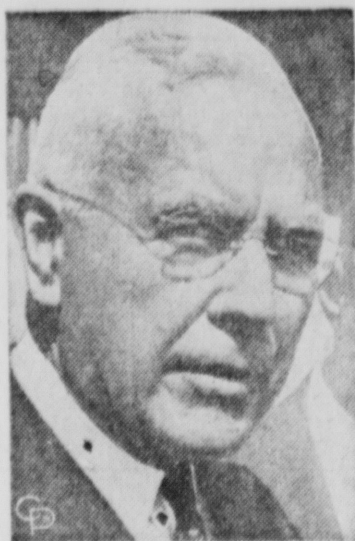

The Air Force had learned of Miras' plight and offered to reunite the saddened family. The child, her mother and Dr. Hugh F. Sisson of Augusta, Ga., traveled aboard a KC135 plane used by maintenance technicians on an inspection tour of Alaskan and Pacific bases.

"There is no way to tell how long she will live," Oensel said. "We'll let her spend her last days in Japan, the land she loved so much."

GOP Solons At Odds on Nixon Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators disagreed today on whether Richard M. Nixon's decision to seek the California governorship eliminates him as a possibility for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who identifies himself with the liberal element of the GOP, said he is accepting at face value Nixon's statement that he is not a candidate and won't be the next Republican nominee.

"I'm glad he's running for governor and I accepted what he said about 1964," Case said.

But Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., who lines up with conservatives, said in a separate interview he is certain that if Nixon is elected governor of California there will be a movement to draft him for the 1964 presidential nomination.

"I don't think you can count him out of the running at all," Mundt said. "If he is elected governor, he will be a powerful force in the next convention. No California governor is going to be ignored by his party."

Republican leaders who have studied the transcript of Nixon's Sept. 27 announcement at a news conference have noted that he didn't entirely rule out the possibility of a 1964 draft. He limited himself to saying he would not be a candidate for the nomination and didn't expect to get it.

Moves power forward for arrow-straight going

WHEN THE ENGINE MOVED FORWARD—WHOOSH!
Underneath that gleaming hood nestles Buick's mighty 401 cu. in. Wildcat V-8 and go-happy Turbine Drive—now both standard on full size Buicks! Moved forward, they give the '62 Buick faster wheel response, amazing sizzle and stability (this beauty slices the air like an arrow—won't wander even in a wind). And, as the power went forward, the frame went wider for dead level cornering...the floor inside went nearly flat for luxurious new leg room. And, talk about luscious interiors, lasting quality! See for yourself at your Buick Dealer's!
